More Refugees en Route.

The foreign office received a wireless from Moscow today saying another trainload would reach Finland tomorrow.

Advices also have reached us as to the foreign office that Gen. Wrangel's advance in south Russia is continuing and that the route of the northern soviet armies facing the Finns has been completed.

In interior Russia, the foreign office advises, it was said, the situation was desperate owing to the threatened famine, which it was predicted would make the two previous lean winters seem to have been seasons of abundance by comparison.

Edgar W. Nyman, a former officer of the A. E. F., who holds the title of general in the Wrangel army, will leave Paris next week to join his command in southern Russia.

FLEE FROM PETROGRAD

[Chicago Tribune—New York Times Cable.]

[Copyright, 1918, by COPENHAGEN, Oct. 5.—A special to the Berliner's Tidende from Helsinki says Russian bolshevist journals state the desertion from Petrograd has recommenced and everybody who is able is leaving the unhappy city.

More than 200,000 persons have already left. The government is starting a paper factory in order to secure a supply for note printing.

WRANGEL PRESSES ATTACK

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 5.—It is reported from Sebastopol that the troops of Gen. Wrangel's south Russian government, developing their offensive against the Russian soviet forces, have occupied Petrovsk and Novospassovsk on the coast of the Sea of Azov. The reports say Wrangel's forces captured more than 4,000 prisoners, twelve cannon and 130 machine guns.

POLES ARE ADVANCING

WARSAW, Oct. 5.—The advance guard of the northern group of Polish armies pursuing the Russian soviet forces, crossed the Loshia and Niemen rivers on Sunday, says the war office official statement issued shortly before sunset midnight.

A detachment of Polesmen attacked Niewish (southeast of Novgorod) and Kleck (south of Niewish), the statement adds. A Lithuanian armored train, which had bombarded our positions on the Ulla river, despite the armistice, was almost captured.

World's Greatest Gas
Well Afre; 1 Dead, 4 Dying

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Oct. 5.—One man is dead, four are dying and flames uncheckable are shooting 250 feet into the air from the Midwest Oil Well, fifty-five miles southwest of Basin, as the result of a spark caused by friction of the drilling apparatus at the well Sunday. The flames from the well can be seen for 100 miles across the country. It is said to be the largest well yet found.

Munitions Ordered to Pass
Anthracite Wage Scale

PARIS, Oct. 5.—By the Associated Press, the council of ambassadors today dispatched a note to Germany demanding the immediate release of three ships loaded with munitions for Poland, which are being held in the Kiel canal by the German authorities. The note specifically mentions the Danish ship Dorrit, but there are two other ships which also are being held.

Expel 50 Peoria High School Students Because of 'Frats'

PEORIA, Ill., Oct. 5.—[Special.]—More than fifty high school students were expelled today because they were reported to belong to fraternities, sororities and other secret organizations. Parents were informed that the students would not be allowed to return to school until they had resigned from the societies. A niece of the superintendent of schools was among those suspended.

ENGLAND WARNS MOSCOW TO CUT OUT PROPAGANDA

Trade Made Secondary in Curzon's Ultimatum.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—[United Press.]—The British government has sent an ultimatum to Moscow which spells a complete reversal of Lloyd George's announced policy of settling trade matters before proceeding to a political understanding.

Earl Curzon, foreign minister, in a seven page note to the Moscow government, demands that Lenin promises to end his propagandistic Bolshevik propaganda in Great Britain, that he releases the 100 prisoners taken at Baku and that he ameliorate the treatment of refugees in Red territory.

The note has an unmistakable mandatory tone and plainly betrays exasperation over the stalling tactics which Moscow has set in to adopt under the pretext that difficulty of communication was causing delay.

Envoy Accused of Duplicity.

4.—A Lithuanian armored force has bombed the Poles despite the armistice between Poland and Lithuania, and was almost captured, Warsaw reports.

5.—Red Russia is said to be in a bad way, with constantly ebbing prestige and a hard winter ahead. The Bolsheviks are repatriating French citizens via Finland in order to gain the favor of France.

WORLD'S RECORD SHIP BURNED IN HAMBURG YARDS

BERLIN, Oct. 5.—The uncompleted steamship Bismarck, which would have been the world's largest vessel, has been burned at Hamburg, says a dispatch to the Zweißfuhrblatt.

The gross tonnage was to have been $6,000,000, or approximately 14,232 tons, the largest ship afloat.

No explanation is given in the dispatch as to the cause of the fire.

The Bismarck was building at the yards of Blohm & Voss at Hamburg and would have been delivered to the allies under the terms of the peace treaty.

In July it was reported that the Bismarck was so nearly completed that it soon would be ready to be sent to Belfast and placed in the Harland & Wolff shipyards to be finished and transferred to the White Star Line.

The vessel was to have been propelled by eight turbines developing 65,000 horse power, and was to be 912 feet long.

YELLOW FEVER SCOURGES EAST PORTS OF MEXICO

Washington, D. C., Oct. 5.—[By the Associated Press.]—Yellow fever is prevalent at Veracruz, the principal port on the east coast of Mexico, and to prevent its possible spread to the United States the public health service has placed quarantine restrictions against all travelers from those ports.

Epidemics of the disease have been reported from Tuxpan and Vera Cruz, and some deaths have occurred at Progreso, in Yucatan. It was only recently that the malady made its appearance in Tampico.

FORGERY ORGY BY U.S. PRISON SOVIET BARED

Prisoners Tell About Printing Checks.

Prisoners in the United States disciplinary barracks at Fort Leavenworth engaged in a veritable crime wave during the reign of the soviet government, authorized by the war department, under Secretary Baker, further investigation of the United States inquiry records revealed yesterday.

Traveling counterfeiting, and forgery became wholesale business activities during the operation of Third Assistant Secretary F. P. Keppler's "prison police" experiment.

Thousands of dollars worth of government supplies were stolen, according to the estimates of investigators—the burning of a quartermaster's warehouse, presumably at the instance of a soviet leader covered up number of losses—and the government and individual business men were molested out of other thousands of dollars through the operation of a forgery and counterfeiting plant within the walls.

Forgery Operations Vast.

Nothing in the history of prison operated criminal activities, says government investigators, approaches the scale of operations inside and outside the walls of these prisons and counterfeiting operations. Every available government activity and department of the barracks was utilized by this gang of criminals, composed partly of members of the soviet's general committee and carefully protected by its soviet heads.

They flooded cities with their spurious checks and drafts, ranging from government treasury and subtreasury checks and paper of some of the big business firms of the country.

So cleverly was the forging and counterfeiting done and so perfectly was the general scheme of cashing the worthless paper worked out that it was often weeks before the deposed government authorities and business men learned they had been trimmed. James W. Wilson, member of the "soviet court" before which prisoners were brought to trial for infractions of barracks regulations, was one of the leaders of the bad check gang. He learned that between 900 and 1,000 forged checks were issued from the soviet crime plant on the government and some twenty private business firms. In addition, scores of check book forms were printed purporting to be issued by banks of New York, Chicago, Kansas City, and other cities.

Bonus U. S. Bonus Checks.

Most of the bogus subtreasury checks purported to be made out to officers or officers and were marked as payment for bonuses or allotments.

Several names were signed in place of controller John S. Williams' signature on the name of the same F. P. Baker, Williams." was affixed to a check to "Big" Maj. James Rousseau. The bogus subtreasury order was cashed.

One of the blank check books printed for the Fort Dearborn National Bank of Chicago.

Fake letters of recommendation, for use of the bad check passers, were overwritten on counterfeit letterheads of all sorts of organizations and businesses.

One of these was a copy of the stationery of "The Bureau of Foreign Wars." It contained the names of various officers of the organization, including that of Maj. S. J. Smith, at that time chaplain of the barracks. On this sheet was written a letter of introduction for James W. Wilson, one of the bad check gang. It was signed with the name "R. G. Woodside, adjutant general."

Ganged Escaped Men's Descriptions.

As a side line to the bad check operations was the forgery of transportation orders for the use of the escaped prisoners who handled the spurious paper inside the prison.

Another collaborative activity to project the bad check passers, who had adopted the "cornfield clemency" tactic, was the mutilation of prisoners' faces within the institution. Escaped

FOREIGN NEWS —IN BRIEF—

RIGA.—Polish and Bolshevik peace delegates agree to sign armistice before Friday.

LONDON.—Terence MacSwiney is reported much weaker on the fifty-fourth day of his hunger strike.

CORK.—Cork hunger strikers are still reported to be fasting, with their conditions unchanged.

DUBLIN.—Viscount French returns from long vacation to his post as vice-roy of Ireland. Expresses extreme disapproval of reprisals and promises immediate action. No new reprisals reported.

MADRID.—Many vital improvements in Spanish laws were agreed to by the cabinet council, at which King Alfonso presided.

TURIN.—Peasant land seizures spread over all Sicily. Metal workers of Fiat plant return to posts.

LONDON.—British ultimatum to Moscow accuses Red trade envoys of duplicity and demands end of soviet propaganda; commercial relations hinged upon Lenin's reception of note.

WILLEMSTAD.—Dutch government is especially illuminating. He told how the prison printing plant was used at nights by the counterfeiters and forgers. He swore to writing in any names desired upon spurious government and private business firm checks. He excused his acts in some cases by declaring he feared the attacks of the soviet slugging crew unless he played the part of pennman for the gang, and insisted that at other times he yielded in order to make himself solid with more powerful prisoners of the institution.

Forged Transportation.

The witness explained that the outgoing men could get any sort of transportation by putting in an application, because the prisoners had access to all blanks and records, and they were more than ready to forge transportation documents.

"Just done by a prisoner," he offered, "filled out—had blank laying around instead of locked up. Just the same as that book (indicating); pick it up and make it out and cash it at the depot. A man could get a ticket to Philadelphia, a Pullman, and everything. Many a one has been used down there in that depot in Kansas City, Mo.; many a one."

Q.—Now, let's get back to the check business. When did you sign those checks you just mentioned? A.—May 11. I believe there were nine of them.

Signed Any Name.

Q.—You signed them purporting to be a government official? A.—No, sir, any name that came into my mind. I signed "Devon" on some and "Saulsbury," and underneath it said "comprint farm colony vouchers on," he testified. "I told him I had used some to print checks for Hal. H. Mathews. He walked away and said nothing."

Louis A. Osterweiss testified: "I know the gang printing—after the gang ordered. If they wanted any record or anything they had somebody record it. If they wanted any record or anything they had somebody record it. As to the actual printing of the checks and things, I don't know anything about. But I saw the checks—had them in my hands—through Vasserberg and Miller. Vasserberg is in the federal prison at Atlanta now, I think, and Miller has escaped.

"I used to have to get information for the office I worked in. Any information that I couldn't get, when they asked—well, it was up to me to find some one who could get it."

What made you get information for them?"

"Fear of going out of there in a coffin—in case the gang wasn't obeyed you were punished. When I worked in the hospital I have seen sixteen or seventeen cases there in one night."

The witness said it was nothing out of the ordinary to get forged discharge papers.

Joseph J. Kreitzer, a former prisoner, testified to escaping with Vasserberg. He said when he met Vasserberg the latter was on parole about the prison, as was Kreitzer.

He told how the pair cashed checks and journeyed from Kansas City to New York. They were finally arrested in Brooklyn. He said all the checks they had were subtreasury checks.

Captain Is Questioned.

Capt. Herbert L. Taylor, in a statement to Oscar Schmitz of the department of justice, said he was assistant in charge of the printing shop from Feb. 22 to July 5, 1919, the period of the irregularities. Everything printed there, he said, was presumed to be authorized by him and was to be used for prison purposes only. He said he never authorized the printing of any other matter. He inspected the shop about once a month. Sgt. Maj. Lester A. Heppert was in direct charge of the plant, he said.

FOREIGN NEWS GERMAN SCHEME OF REPARATION

[Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.]

(Copyright: 1920.)

PARIS, Oct. 5.—Having got rid of the Geneva conference, the French government has now turned down the suggestion made by the German foreign minister, Simon, that a meeting should take place between the two governments to discuss reparations.

This proposal was made in Berlin to Ambassador Charles Laurent, and the place suggested was the town of Wiesbaden. Secrecy was asked, and the French declare that this would have been granted had not the Germans disclosed the fact of negotiations by allowing publication of an erroneous report that M. Laurent, who arrived here yesterday, had brought concrete German proposals with regard to reparations.

The only proposal, it is stated, which Laurent has brought as the result of the conference he had with Simon, is with regard to the reestablishment and furtherance of commercial relations, which France is anxious as Germany to foster.

All acts of the chief secretary, however, are done in the name of the lord lieutenant, who is legally responsible, and Viscount French objects to bearing responsibility for a policy which he loathes.

Retained Unchanged.

Viscount French proposed briefly into Ireland the same day that Sir Hamar Greenwood, Sir Neville MacReady, Sir John Anderson, and other civil officials left for London to discuss the popular outcry against reparations.

His first act upon arriving at the vice regal lodge was to call for the fullest reports on the civil and military situation in Ireland. When he had studied these he sent for the subordinate heads, now in Ireland, and told them what he thought of the administration.

IRISH VICEROY SAYS HE WILL END REPRISALS

Viscount French Returns to Dublin Post.

BULLETIN.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—The condition of Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, in Brixton prison, remained unchanged tonight. Officials of the Irish Self-Determination league said they thought that "careful nursing" would restore him to normal health should his release in some unforeseen manner be effected within a few days.

"So far as we know, he is receiving no food," remains the only government reply to queries.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

DUBLIN, Oct. 5.—Field Marshal Viscount French, the hero of Ypres, has returned to his post as vice-roy of Ireland after a long vacation.

He has expressed himself fully, frankly, and emphatically about happenings during his absence.

Viscount French is to be a dummy viceroy and insists that he know what is going on and what the policy of the government in Ireland is. He has expressed violent disapproval of the reprisals policy and will insist on the dismissal of any officer, police or soldier, who allows such acts by his men in the future.

PEASANTS PLAN TO SEIZE ALL SICILIAN LANDS

Workers in Fiat Plant
Return to Posts.

BY JOHN CLAYTON.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

TURIN, Oct. 5.—Reports from all parts of Sicily indicate that land occupations by peasants, begun a fortnight ago in the south, have become general throughout the island.

Village centers from which the latest reports of seizures have come include De Prizi, Palazzo, Andriano, Corleone, and Castronecchia. Practically all the large feudal estates in western Sicily are now in peasant hands. The announced plan of these peasants is to operate cooperatively all of the large tracts on the island.

Seize Italian Estates.

In practical all cases the owners have accepted the agreement offered by the peasants whereby the properties will be run by cooperative societies with payment by the owners of all taxes and other general expenses of operation.

More than 40,000 workers in the Fiat plant returned to their benches this morning after the investigating committee concluded its session to ascertain damage resulting from the communist occupation. No serious damage was uncovered. It had been thought the investigation would not be concluded until Thursday.

Other Plants Reopen.

The Lancia plant is the only plant of importance still occupied by workers under communistic control, and these workers decided they will reconvene operations unless the Fiat workers decide in favor of the Giolitti agreement and threaten to change the plant so they can make agricultural machinery to send to soviet Russia. Representatives of the Fiat, Itala, and Dilaro plants today declared the establishments were left in perfect condition by the workers. All, it is believed, will be in operation under the Rome agreement by Thursday.

There were no casualties.

Eight soldiers also were captured on a road in Kings county. All mails were seized at Dublin today by the military authorities and searched for information concerning the Republican government. Many private houses were searched today by the military, so were the offices of the United Irish league.

HOOVER, BORAH, TO AID HARDING; HAYS DELIGHTED

G. O. P. Chairman Sure of Election Victory.

Marion, Oct. 5.—[Special.]—The receipt today of a telegram from Senator Borah, who said he would continue to work for Senator Harding and against the league, was followed by word that Herbert C. Hoover, former food controller, will speak for the same purpose at Indianapolis, Ind.

The Borah message said:

"In view of reports, I wish you to know my speeches in future will be along same lines as at Dayton and in the senate. I want to see you win and I want to see the league scheme defeated. In my own way, I shall devote my time to the achievement of both propositions."

Hays Says Victory's Sure.

Will H. Hays, Republican national chairman, told Senator Harding yesterday with the prediction that Gov. James M. Cox will not carry a state outside of the solid south and Oklahoma, twelve. Mr. Hays also expects the election of Republican senators from Maryland, Kentucky, Colorado, California, Arizona, South Dakota and several other states.

Mr. Hays said: "It's going to be a landslide," and here's the way he sees it.

"The Republicans will certainly carry all of the New England states, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, West Virginia, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Kentucky, Wisconsin, Illinois, and have a splendid chance to carry Tennessee and North Carolina, with the gain of several congressmen in other southern states. The Republicans will carry everything west of the Mississippi river except Arkansas, Louisiana, and Texas. We have a fine chance to carry Oklahoma, and will certainly carry all of the mountain and far western states."

Gov. Cox's Efforts Resented.

Senator Harding received today a letter from William Miller Collier, president of George Washington university and formerly minister to Spain. Dr. Collier was an ardent follower of Theodore Roosevelt. He writes that substantially all of the old Roosevelt following are behind Harding. He said:

"The constant appeals of Gov. Cox for the support of the former Progressive vote prompts me to write to you that as one of the followers of Theodore Roosevelt in that movement I have considered it a duty as well as a pleasure to support you to the utmost of my ability. I also am actuated by the conviction that my former chief, Theodore Roosevelt, were he living, would wish that all his friends should strive to bring about your election."

Predicts California's Victory.

State Senator Lyman M. King of Redlands, Calif., told Senator Harding today that he looks for a Republican majority of 150,000 in California and that the majority may go to 200,000. The tariff is the big issue in California and the desire for protection is strong. Senator Harding will leave at 10:45 a.m. tomorrow for a western trip which will include Denver, Omaha, St. Joseph, Kansas City, and Oklahoma City, and in the course of which he will make numerous impromptu talks. He was asked today if he cared to make comment on President Wilson.

He gave the thieves until 11 o'clock yesterday to make good, with the alternative that he would name fifty-four policemen mixed up in the case and bare the whole matter.

Shortly before 11 o'clock a wet blanket appeared to have been thrown on Mr. Joy. His silence during the day was profound. And from the federal agent's standpoint his was a real disappearance.

It was known, however, that Joy and John Miller, his partner, participated in a conference with other victimized saloonkeepers in a south side saloon until a late hour last night. The outcome of the conference is unknown. But Joy has not exploded his bomb.

Getting Things Done

The modern woman has a pretty busy time of it. Style shoes, strictly so, won't get her around gracefully these busy days. She has taken to the Princess Pat. It is a trim shoe of thin lines shaped naturally to the foot, with a straight inside line and a medium toe. Walk-Over designers have perfected the outlines. They have made it a good-looking shoe with style. The heel is not too high, nor is it too low. It is just right. You'll be surprised how much easier it is to get things done in Princess Pats.

As a result of the Heiter deal many other ramifications of the "whisky ring" are coming to light.

There is the story of a laundry driver who delivers whisky into the Gresham police district along with his wash. He says this man is said to have cleaned up $1,100. It is rumored certain policemen are helping the laundryman dispose of his goods.

Cops on Furlough Peddle Booze.

Then there is the story of the two mounted policemen detailing at the Grand Crossing station. Last May they took a furlough to enter the whisky trade. Now they are driving an expensive automobile. The only time they visit the station is on pay day. They are still on furlough.

The Maxwell street station district also enters into the tale. There two detective sergeants, one of whom has been mentioned more than once recently in connection with the whisky ring. Yesterday the mysterious woman in black who has been hanging around Maj. Dalrymple's office was seen and confessed. She is said to be the recruited sweetheart of one of the whisky ring.

The tale she told has given the federal agents a real insight into the workings of the booze board of trade, and more arrests may happen shortly.

TWO DEMOCRATIC TEAMS NOW PUT TO SAVE LEAGUE

Wilson and Cumming
Hitch to Cox Wagon

BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT
Washington, D. C., Oct. 5.—(Spec)
the Democratic national campa-now on will have two chief and two managers.

In partnership with Gov. Cox campaign chairman, George W.
Wilson, president of the States, and Homer S.
Hoag, former chairman of the Di-committee, have joined to league of nations covenant rocks it can be learned the public interest will be served upon Gov. Cox and Chairman Hoag yielded at last to agents of administration force party that the league of na-be played over all else in handshake henceforth until day.

Cumming Gets Instructions.

As a matter of fact some influencers here declare the super-commanders of the Democratic this date will be Wilson and Cooing, the latter, who wanted to imate Wilson at San Fran-taking over the White House by being invading the middle strike for the league.

Mr. Cummings, who delivered a guest tribute to Wilson at which almost made him formidable candidate for the nomination, resigned as ch-when Gov. Cox was nomi-up to the party he had active role in the campaign.
When Wilson leaped into aid Cox in the final deutes with the league as the issue. Cummings rushed Washington and is now on up the White House but the fight to save the Wilson
from national repudiation.

Mr. Cummings has described his what has been described his in the campaign, he de-told to whom it up for the lead
Ohio, Kansas, Indiana, Kent-Mexico, and California. He the administration's phase of aking campaign at Cincinnati.

While the president is preparing his statement of Sunday night
further arguments for the league

Republican publicity associattention today to the vital fact that "one party to a con-and insist upon the right to dethe interpretation of the of the contract."

Getting America "In Bad."

President Wilson," says the Rep-statement, "has declared
league of nations covenant
assert a different view. T ons of the British diplomats setting upon the Monroe doc-should any dispute as to meaning of the latter ever arises between the American and European the league is there to settle it.

That is an interpretation which Japan will undoubtedly ag-would like to secure a foot-Mexico."

But if Japan had undertaken
a footing on the western hemi-the attitude of America would the same as though a similar con-pursued by any European na-protest would be prompt, and United States were free from obligations as are contained the league covenant there could be in that protest would be fundamental. But it certainly would if we became members of league of nations and the interpre-expressed by the British diploma-would prevail."

NO DEMOCRATIC TEAMS NOW PULL TO SAVE LEAGUE

John and Cummings hitch to Cox Wagon.

STAFF CORRESPONDENT. D. C., Oct. 5.—[Special.] Democratic national campaign now will have two chieftains managers.

Chairman with Gov. Cox and campaign chairman, George White, State, and Horner S. Cummings, former chairman of the Democratic committee, have joined to pull teams of nations covenant from books if it can be done.

Or as can be learned the party's interest has been mutually agreed upon, Gov. Cox and Chairman having yielded at last to the insistence of administration forces in party that the league of nations be played over all else in the hands of henceforth until election day.

Cummings Gets Instructions.

A matter of fact some influential Democrats have declared the supreme leaders of the Democratic effort since this will be Wilson and Cummings, who wanted to re-elect Wilson at San Francisco, have taken final instructions from President at the White House before invading the middle west for the league.

Cummings, who delivered the speech tribute to Wilson at San Francisco which almost made himself a candidate for the Democratic nomination, arrived in Chicago when Gov. Cox was nominated, and up to the present time has taken no part in the campaign. But President Wilson leaped into the race to aid Cox in the final drive against the league as the issue.

Cummings is to make his drive and has been described as most zealous in this campaign, being invited to speak up for the league in Indiana, Kentucky, Mexico, and California. He will be in the administration's phase of the campaign at Cincinnati today.

The president is preparing to make his statement of Sunday night further arguments for the league, Republican publicity association and attention today to the vital point in connection with the fact that "one party to a contract and insist upon the right to determine the interpretation of the language of the contract."

Getting America In Bad.

President Wilson, "says the Republican statement," has declared that the league of nations covenant does interfere with the Monroe doctrine. Representatives of the British government assert a different view. The heads of the British diplomats coming upon the Monroe doctrine should any dispute arise as to the meaning of the latter ever arise between the American and European powers the league is there to settle it.

That is an interpretation with which Japan will undoubtedly agree, would like to secure a footing in Asia.

But if Japan had undertaken to make a footing on the western hemisphere the attitude of America would be the same as though a similar course were pursued by any European nation. The protest would be prompt, and if United States were free from any obligations as are contained in the league covenant there could be no doubt that our protest would be prompt. We certainly would be bound if we became members of the league of nations and the interpretation expressed by the British diplomats will prevail."

City Cuts Fruit Prices

John Miller of "municipal fruit fleet," Russell J. Poole, city H. C. L. expert, and John Cline confer at municipal pier on price reductions for latest cargo of fruit to arrive, which buyers complained was being sold at high prices, counting in carfare.

STUNG AGAIN, VERDICT ON NEW CARGO OF FRUIT

Prices Still 'Too High'; City May Quit Plan.

Father Dearborn's initial venture as a fruit vendor began yesterday and unless luck changes end today.

The vessel Howard F., with Capt. J. F. Miller in charge, docked at the Municipal pier early yesterday morning, loaded to the deck rails with grapes, apples and pears. There was not enough fruit on board to make a dent in the H. C. of those fruits, however.

By noon Deputy Commissioner of Public Works Burkhardt was swamped with complaints that, counting car fare to the pier, the fruit was costing housewives more than if they had made their purchases at the corner grocery.

Police Slashes Prices.

Mr. Burkhardt sent Russell J. Poole, secretary of the council H. C. of L. committee, to the pier. After comparing price with Capt. Miller's bills and the cost of transporting the fruit from Utica, H. C., he found the price of grapes from $6.25 cents a basket, pears from $1.50 to $1.80 a bushel, and Jonathan apples from $2 to $2.60 a bushel.

The Peerless, another of the municipal fruit fleet, is expected to dock at the pier at 8 o'clock this morning.

Sets Limit on Rates.

Mr. Poole's bureau made public the following "fair price" list on apples, pears, and peaches:

Apples.	Wholesale price—barrels.	Retail price—pounds.
No. 1 Wealthies, off Early, Green, and Matin Blush varieties	$4.50 to $5.00	5c to 6c
No. 1 Greenings, Pippins, Duchesses, $4.00 to $4.50	4c to 5c
No. 1 Grimes Goldens	$5.50 to $6.00	6c to 6½c
No. 2 all varieties $1.25 to $1.50	3½c to 4½c
Peaches.	Bushel. Peck.
No. 1 Michigan large	$2.25 to $2.50	90c to $1.00
Michigan Alberta, soft and small $1.00 to $1.50	$1.50 to $2.25
Pears.	Bushels. Pound.
All ordinary varieties	$1.00 to $1.50	3c to 4c
Retailers in several communities were reported to be charging as high as 10 cents a pound for apples.

The trials of Dr. Hyde upon a charge of murder in connection with the death of Thomas H. Swope, millionaire philanthropist, in 1909, attracted wide attention.

Dr. Hyde, who recently was sued for divorce by his wife, upon charges of extreme cruelty and violence, is further restrained from "visiting or accosting" his wife, wherever she may be, and "from communicating with her or with her children, directly or by telephone."

The order is made returnable Oct. 11, when Judge T. M. Buckner will pass upon the subject of a permanent restraining order.

BOTH SIDES MAY YIELD TO AVERT U.S.-TOKIO CRISIS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 5.—[Special.]—It was intimated at the state department today that negotiations with Japan over the alien land and immigration controversies is progressing and that there are signs of an agreement being reached in the near future.

Whether the agreement would be reached before the California referendum on the amendment to the alien land law, to which Japan objects, was regarded as doubtful.

Todday Baron Shidehara, the Japanese ambassador, conferred with the state department. Baron Saito, the American ambassador to Japan, now assisting at the department, regarding the California land ownership question.

Officials remained silent as to the status of the negotiations, but it has been intimated that either a new treaty with Japan will be negotiated or the existing treaty amended in order to establish beyond question the right of Japanese nationals now residing in the United States to own and transfer land.

Japan, on her part, it has been intimated, will agree to a new gentlemen's agreement or the perfection of the existing gentlemen's agreement affecting the emigration of Japanese laborers to this country.

DIVIDED FLEET PERIL TO NAVY BEFORE JAPAN

of war, and opined that a fleet on the Pacific coast not only would give the westerners an added sense of security, but demonstrate visibly the necessity of providing bases and navy yards vital to the prosecution of war in the Pacific.

Mr. Daniels' first plan was to send the entire navy into the Pacific and keep it there indefinitely. That was after the European war began but before the United States got into the conflict. He was prevented from carrying out this plan by the delay in opening the canal.

Mr. Daniels' second plan was to send two fleets, permanently assigned to the Atlantic and Pacific, emerged after the armistice. When it was announced, the Japanese became concerned by the decision to split the navy into two parts, more than ever had been done before.

The Japanese naval attaché here called on Admiral Benson and asked for an explanation.

The admiral is reported to have told the Japanese attaché that the purpose was to demonstrate the need of bases in the Pacific if the United States were expected to wage a successful war in that ocean. The attaché thanked the admiral for his frankness and departed to inform his government.

"In discussing the strategic position of the battlefleet as the first line of national defense, Admiral Mahan explains at length the essential principle of concentration," said Commander Charles C. Gill, U. S. N., a recognized authority on strategy. "He shows how in history, obvious as this principle is, it has been repeatedly violated with disastrous consequences.

"Admiral Mahan's views on any such violation of the principle of concentration may be gathered from his discussion of the war of 1898 between the United States and Spain, during which the fears of the American people compelled the government to keep the so-called flying squadron at Hampton Roads instead of close to the probable scene of a war. A dissolution strategically incorrect, as it divided our naval forces, and had Corregidor, a station which had been efficient might have led to disaster."

Commander Gill also quoted from Mahan to show that "were he alive he would not view with indifference the disposition of the strategically important islands north of the equator, for them—but notwithstanding the probability that such a timely concentration could be effected, there seem to be weighty objections against the division of the naval forces because of hazards involved, one of which is the possibility that an enterprising and ingenious enemy might contrive at the very opening of hostilities to block temporarily the canal passage."

"The tendency of governments to ignore this principle and yield to local popular demand rather than to the dictates of sound strategy, is evidenced by the division of our battlefleet from the time of the armistice to the present time."

"It is admitted that there is a plausibility in the contention that these squadrons would be operating on interior lines, and could, in all likelihood, be more effective than the two separate squadrons in the Pacific and the other in the Atlantic."

Commander Gill also quoted from Mahan to show that "were he alive he would not view with indifference the disposition of the strategically important islands north of the equator, for

Chicago speakers dates for Gov. Cox were announced yesterday by J. M. Estley, chairman of the managing committee. Three tee of the Democratic party of Cook county will be in the Woods theater at noon, his speech to be at the stockyards pavilion at 3 o'clock and his last at the Second Cavalry armory at 9:30 p.m. at the Opera house in Oak Park.

Bonnie Crockett will speak at the stockyards pavilion at 8 p.m. Oct. 12, at 9:30 at the Second Infantry armory.

Registration is necessary on Saturday, Oct. 12, if the registration of Chicago voters is not to fall below 750,000 for the primary of Sept. 15. The official figures Saturday's registration made public yesterday show that only 291,949 men and 138,320 women registered, a total of 420,269. The registration before the primary of Sept. 15 was approximately 500,000.

The question of registration occupies the attention of the Democratic committee at its meeting. George Brennan and Chairman Dailey both addressed urging a large registration.

Michael L. Iglesias, Democratic candidate for state's attorney, made representations in the recent booze robbery, and of speeches which he delivered in the country towns of Cook county and the holdup adventures of "Doc" Thompson, furnish a striking record of the Thompson gang's trying to meet a state's attorney of its choosing."

Thomas J. O'Grady, Democratic candidate for the 14th senatorial district, received 53,511 votes at the primary and was easily winner. Early reports were that he had been defeated.

Board of Trade Forming
National Guard Compa

Active canvassing of the south to build up a company in the First Cavalry, Illinois national guard, is going on. The Board of Trade sent a committee of twenty-five men to do the work. It is expected the men will be encountered in October in the sixties men needed. The company will be known as the "Trade Guards." It is the tradition of the board and the First Cavalry. At least two founders of the board, James A. Pease and R. G. Chandler, served in that regiment many years ago.

HARDING IN CITY TODAY ON WAY TO SPEAK IN WEST

First Address in Omaha
Tomorrow Night.

Warren G. Harding will be here today for four hours before trains. He will arrive at the Dearborn station at 10 a.m. Chicago time, and will go directly to the Congress hotel for dinner and rest. He will leave for Des Moines from the La Salle street across the Rock Island railroad at 10:30 a.m. Chicago time. It is probable he will hold a brief conference with his campaign managers.

The journey for Senator Harding's boat on the Mississippi river was suspended. He will speak in Omaha tomorrow night. Friday afternoon he will make a brief speech from his train in Joseph, Mo., and in the evening will talk in Kansas City. Saturday afternoons he speaks in Wichita, Kas., at Arkansas City and Ponca City, in the afternoon. In the evening talks at Oklahoma City. He will go to St. Louis, where he will speak there two hours Sunday on his way to Marion, which he will reach at noon Monday.

Park L. Smith, chairman of the Republican state central committee, in accordance with the agreement reached at the joint meeting of the "old" and "new" committees last week, yesterday and the following members of the executive and organization committee: executives—Dr. Forrest Kinney, L. Johnson, Walter Rosenblatt, Morris Eller, Fred W. Upham, Frank Hall, Adam Cliffe, George A. Conner, and Elmer Simpson.

Opposition—Adam Cliffe, Adolph Leland S. Rapp, Justus L. Johnson, George M. Milley, Charles Bostrom, Henry H. Kohn.

Chase speaking dates for Gov. Cox announced yesterday by James M. Butler, chairman of the Chicago delegation to the national committee of the Democratic party of Cook county. Gov. Cox will be in Chicago Oct. 26. His first speech will be at Woods theater at noon, his second at the stockyards pavilion at 8 o'clock, and his last at the Second Infantry armory at 9:30 p.m.

Wadsworth Colby, secretary of state, spoke here on Oct. 16 for three meetings. He will address the Women of the World Club in the morning. Mrs. Catharine Waugh McLean will preside. At 8 o'clock he will talk at Hyde Park High school, 51st street and Stony Island avenue, and at 9:30 o'clock at the Warrington house in Oak Park.

Major Cockran will speak at the Woods pavilion at 8 p.m. Oct. 21 and 22 at the Second Infantry armory.

Collection of the registration of Saturday is necessary on Tuesday, Oct. 12, if the registration of Chicago voters figures is not to fall below that for the primary of Sept. 15. The official figures Saturday's registration made public yesterday show that only 291,949 men and 38,320 women registered, a total of 330,269. The registration before the primary of Sept. 15 was approximately 350,000.

The question of registration occupied attention of the Democratic county committee at its meeting. George Brennan and Chairman Dailey both addressed urging a large registration.

Tamm, Democratic candidate for state's attorney, made remarks in the recent house robbery, the speech which he delivered in the country towns of Cook county, and the holdup adventures of our names furnish a striking reason for the Thompson gang is trying to get a state's attorney of its own making.

Donald J. O'Grady, Democratic candidate for state representative from the ninth senatorial district, received 2,714 votes at the primary and was easily winner. Early reports were he had been defeated.

Board of Trade Forming
National Guard Company

A canvassing of the grain trade and up a company in the First Illinois national guard, was on the Board of Trade yesterday. A committee of twenty-five under the chairmanship of the Board of Trade, it is expected little difficulty will be encountered in obtaining the necessary men needed. The company will be known as the Board of Trade company, thus living up to the tradition of the board of and of First Infantry. At least two former members of the board, James A. Paton and R. G. Chandler, served as privates in that regiment many years ago.

A Little Stranger
Former Count Minotto and His Wife Announce Birth of Miss Ida May Minotto.

Ida May Minotto is the newest member of the household of Mr. and Mrs. James Minotto. It was announced last night. She arrived yesterday. A son was born in February of 1917.

Their marriage in January of 1915 was one of the noteworthy events of the Chicago society world. Mrs. Minotto is the daughter of Louis F. Swift, the packer. Mr. Minotto is the son of the late Count Demetrius Minotto of Venice and Berlin. His mother, formerly known on the stage as "German Bernhardt," is still living.

Soon after the conclusion of the world war Mr. Minotto took out his final papers for American citizenship, dropping his title.

NAME EX-SOLDIER AS VICE CONSUL AT TOKIO, JAPAN

Leo D. Sturgeon, former student at Northwestern university, learned yesterday that he had been appointed vice consul at Tokio, Japan. Sturgeon is 24 years old and lives at 441 Oakdale avenue. He was one of the first to enter when the state of war was declared against Germany, and the armistice found him "top" sergeant in a "medics" unit. The rank of first sergeant is the highest noncommissioned officer in a company.

THREE STRIKES FAIL TO PUT OUT THE DAIRY SHOW

Union carpenters staged three strikes at the International amphitheater at Forty-second and Halsted streets yesterday, and held up the work of installing the $4,000,000 machinery exhibits for the National Dairy show, which opens tomorrow. In spite of carpenter pickets the managers kept things humming most of the time. Unable to get enough men, they pulled off their white collars, rolled up their sleeves, and started to build their own booths.

Night shifts will complete the booths in time for the show. W. E. Skinner, general manager, declared everything would be ready for the opening.

Trainloads of show cattle poured in all day. Big herds came from every corner of the country, and more will arrive this morning.

The famous Holstein bull of the state will be included in the exhibit of the University of Illinois. Several of his cows from the university farm, including a four year old that has produced 1,000 pounds of butter and more than 2,400 pounds of milk; a mature cow that will finish her year's record in November with approximately 1,100 pounds of butter and 2,500 pounds of milk, will be in the herd.

The herds unjoined yesterday included those of J. T. Peck, Dixon, Cal., and Middlesex Mandeville, from the latter is made up of eighteen blue ribbon aristocrats, headed by Teaser, a $50,000 bull. This elephant-sized animal is the most valuable one on the grounds, according to William Hogg, herd representative.

December Romance Fails; Aged Elopement Sues Bride

Even the maturity that comes with three score and more years was not enough to make smooth the matrimonial path of George W. Peck and his 79 year old bride. Yesterday Peck, a clerk in the department of public works, listed his Crown Point elopement of five years ago as a failure by filing suit for divorce.

The first intimation that the romance was not all that had been expected came last summer when Mrs. Peck brought charges of nonsupport against her husband.

M. R. WILSON ON ARTICLE X.

Mr. Wilson charges those who oppose his demand for unreserved ratification of the league with "grossly misleading" their fellow countrymen with regard to the treaty and particularly with regard to the proposed character of the league of nations.

Here is Mr. Wilson's discussion in the same address of Article X. of the covenant.

"Those who do not care to tell you the truth about the league of nations," says Mr. Wilson, implying that they who disagree with him in this matter cannot be honest, "tell you that Article X. of the covenant would make it possible for other nations to lead us into war, whether we will or not by our own independent judgment or not. This is absolutely false. There is nothing in the covenant which in the least interferes with or impairs the right of congress to declare war or not to declare war, according to its own independent judgment, as our constitution provides."

Mr. Wilson knows that objection to Article X. is not on the ground that it would legally deprive congress of a constitutional right to declare war. Treaty, even the sacrosanct treaty of Versailles, could do that. Only an amendment to the constitution ratified by the legislatures of three-quarters of the states could do that.

The objection to Article X. is that it creates a moral obligation and Senator Harding has recalled Mr. Wilson's admission, in the colloquy with the senators in March, 1919, that a moral obligation is superior to a legal obligation and of greater binding force.

Is there a sweeping moral obligation in Article X.? Here is the text:

"The members of the league undertake to respect and preserve as against external aggression the territorial integrity and existing political independence of all members of the league. In case of any such aggression or in case of any threat or danger of such aggression the council shall advise upon the means by which this obligation shall be fulfilled."

We quote here the version in English as given in the senate, but the reader will be interested in an article on the French version published in an adjoining column today. Though the significant difference in phraseology discussed by Mr. Spencer offers a forecast of the questions of interpretation which will arise if the covenant survive, it is conceded that our moral obligation would be fixed by the phraseology of the text submitted to our congress.

This obligation is in plain English, "to respect and preserve as against external aggression the territorial integrity and existing political independence of all members of the league."

When confronted with this obligation, the advocates of unreserved ratification, from Mr. Wilson down, show a most accountable but somewhat deplorable disposition to change ground. Here is an obligation "to respect and preserve." It is a moral obligation which is of "greater binding force" than a mere legal obligation. Mr. Wilson demands that the senate shall join the chief executive in deliberately and formally subscribing to it without reservation.

Yet the next breath we are told that there is nothing in this pledge or in the covenant "which in the least interferes with or impairs the right of congress to declare war or not declare war, according to its own independent judgment."

In other words, the pledge is a moral pledge, but we are told congress remains free to refuse the only method by which, in some circumstances at least, it can be fulfilled.

The advocates of the league, including Mr. Wilson, propose that we shall accept a moral obligation because there is no legal obligation. They propose we shall make a moral pledge because congress is legally free to refuse to fulfill it.

But congress will not be free. As Senator Harding has said: "The American people would never repudiate a debt of honor." What is "absolutely false" is not the assertion of the opponents of the league that Article X. would bind, but the assertion of Mr. Wilson that the freedom of congress will not be impaired by ratification of Article X. The obligation assumed is not legal. It is moral and of a "greater binding force."

Who is misleading the American people as to the meaning and potentialities of Article X.?

SAMUEL GOMPERS, AMERICAN FIRST.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, is undoubtedly a dyed-in-the-wool Democrat and to that extent hardly qualified to direct the labor vote of the nation in a mass, as we recently asserted, but, on the strength of a Washington dispatch of Sept. 29, we wish to pay him our respects as an American first.

The dispatch announced that the American Federation of Labor had repudiated the British and international labor parties as being in a position of "anarchistic hostility to all governments without discrimination." The declaration of principle by the American Federation through Mr. Gompers is due to an appeal by the British and international labor parties to their membership to refuse to engage in any war enterprise. Recognizing that there was such a thing as a righteous war, Mr. Gompers considers such a policy as revolutionary. He makes it clear that the organized labor which he represents has not had and will not have any affiliation with any revolutionary body which might jeopardize the safety of the American nation and of American institutions.

While recognizing the need of revolution against autocratic governments, organized labor in this country regards the American government as being essentially democratic, he says. That is true Americanism, unstructured by partisanship. To fly in the face of the growing tendency of the British and international labor parties to seize control of government by industrial pressure required high courage. Samuel Gompers has exhibited that courage.

There are many men in American organized labor and out of it who sympathize so intensely with the ambitions of foreign labor organizations that they have swallowed their doctrines whole. Mr. Gompers has risked the enmity of these men and of all radicals both within and without his organization by his declaration of principle. His courage and essential patriotism when it comes to a test between the best interests of this nation and the radical theories of certain elements allied with labor will be an inspiration to the American Federation as a whole.

Such proof of loyalty to the United States will give the best elements of organized labor an influence in this country which will redound to the prestige and progress of labor.

DANGERS OF IMMIGRATION.

Revelation of an alarming number of cases of pauperism, idiocy, and imbecility in the steadily growing flood of immigrants arriving at Ellis Island again emphasized the peril to the United States which lies in the present system of offering sanctuary to any and all classes of Europeans. The danger from political malcontents who may slip in with the crowd again is emphasized by the arrest in Pittsburgh of an alleged dynamiter bearing a suitcase full of explosives. This man, who came from Russia seven years ago, told the police he had never taken out citizenship papers and had no intention of becoming a citizen.

It is such immigrants who jeopardize American institutions, American life, and American property. It is the radical, the criminal, the poverty stricken, and the diseased who find it easy to obtain permission from their home governments to move to America. The next step is to obtain a visa of passports from American consuls abroad. The fact that within four weeks three steamship lines have brought to New York 1,757 steerage passengers who were penniless and 2,335 who had less than $20 each indicates how poorly the American consuls are checking the resources and availability of those applying for passports.

The fact that of 575 patients in the detention hospital at Ellis Island a large part are suffering from disease which will cause their exclusion indicates how poorly both the consuls and steamship lines are guarding against such invasion. The fact that the government facilities for examining the immigrants are so overcrowded that on one night a week ago it was necessary to detain 3,819 in quarters designed for 1,500 indicates pressure upon the authorities which must mean hasty and casual examination in many cases. Such errors on the other side of the Atlantic, and such haste as is made necessary on this side, cannot fail to give to the world thousands of undesirables.

The literacy test has proved insufficient. Until better laws are enacted to protect this country there should be better operation of the present laws. The display of passports by persons who cannot legally enter the country should be checked back to the consul issuing such passports. Effective action might be taken to prevent consuls from opening the door of America to undesirables. Pressure can be brought to bear on the steamship companies to make them guard more carefully against the sale of transportation to undesirables.

"FALSE," WILSON HIMSELF SAYS TO U.S. SENATOR

Washington, D. C., Oct. 5.—President Wilson today wrote to Senator Spencer, Republican, Missouri, that the statement recently made by the senator that the president had promised American military aid to Roumania and Serbia in the event of the invasion of those countries was "false."

Senator Spencer said he was deceived by Missouri, and when he wired to Secretary Tumulty's attention, Mr. Tumulty gave out a statement to correspondents of St. Louis newspapers declaring that the senator's statement was "absolutely and unequivocally false." Senator Spencer in turn issued a statement saying he did not believe the president had authorized such a denial.

President's Letter.

The president's letter was in reply to this statement. It follows:

"Senator: Soden Palmer Spencer, St. Louis, Mo., I have just been shown your telegram that my secretary's denial of the previous statement, yet that I had promised American military aid to Roumania and Serbia was issued by him without my knowledge and sanction, and that you did not for a moment believe I had made any such denial or that the matter was ever called to my attention. I wish to state that your statement was

LITTLE CHORISTER, 6, TO MAKE DEBUT AS SOLOIST ON MONDAY

Julian Marhoefer, 6 years old, will make his first public appearance as a soloist next Monday evening in Orchestra hall. He is a member of the Paulist choir, which is to give a program at the hall for the benefit of the Travellers' Aid society. The boy is a soprano. He will sing "Nothing but Love," by Carrie Jacobs Bond, and possibly one or two other solos. He is said to have a very pleasing voice.

the peace conference, in which you are reported to have said to Premier Bratianu of Roumania as follows:

"You must not forget that it is for us to keep the world in the public peace. If the world is again troubled the United States will send to this side of the ocean their army and their fleet."

"The statement was made upon the floor of the senate on Feb. 2, 1920, by Senator Reed, and so far as I have learned has never been denied until now. It has not been denied over the United States. If you did not make that statement to Premier Bratianu, I should be much indebted if you will inform me."

"The grand jury also indicted four steamship and oil men on charges of conspiring to defraud the shipping board by collecting false vouchers for fuel supplied the board's steamer Dio to Rio De Janeiro and padding repair bills."

"The defendants are M. R. Millar, a British merchant and ship repair man of Rio De Janeiro; H. B. Hankinson, formerly a representative of the Standard Oil Company of Brazil; Capt. Rupert Wry of the Dio, and Raymond H. Bowman, chief engineer.

"The alleged fraud by Fox and Kaiser was said to have been in connection with purchase of a number of shipping board vessels bought on the installation plan."

"Commercial necessity and national defense, alike, call for the early completion of the plans fathered by George Washington, for a contiguous waterway trunk line along the Atlantic seaboard from the Hudson to the west of the east wind long enough."

"Between Massachusetts bay and the North Carolina sounds there are but four narrow necks of land to be cut through Cape Cod, New Jersey, at its narrowest point, the Delaware-Maryland peninsula and the productive low lying area below Norfolk."

'LEAGUE SPELLS WAR TO SOLDIER': RICKENBACKER

"It's a Contract to Fight Anywhere on Call."

Following is the first of a series of articles by Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker on "Why Soldiers Are Against the League of Nations." Capt. Rickenbacker was the "Ace of Aces" in American aviation on the front in France. His acquaintance among veterans of the world war is national.

BY CAPT. E. V. RICKENBACKER

For a soldier the league of nations has just one meaning—war. It is a contract to fight.

If we join the league, we agree to fight when called in to do so.

International lawyers and diplomats may argue this point. Some say we may sign the league covenant, and still not fight unless we wish. They argue that after our allies call on us we still are at liberty to go in or stay out.

CAPT. E. V. RICKENBACKER

The soldier does not look at the league covenant in this way. He does not bother with the law or diplomacy. We sign a contract; we must keep it. We give a promise;

we must redeem it. He does not even think about whether it is moral or law that binds us. He only knows that if we give a pledge we are going to stand by it.

How Soldier Views Article X.

Take, for instance, article X. The soldier reads there that the members of the league "undertake to respect and preserve against external aggression" the territory and independence of all other members. That is the language of the covenant. The soldier sees that language in his mind into "United States." He then would put the pledge, if signed by the United States, in about this form:

"The United States undertakes to respect and preserve against external aggression the territory of all members for war, and you have article X. ready to sign." That is the language as he sees it. Everything else to him is just camouflage. We give our word to stand ready to fight on call for any other nation in the league that is suf-ferring from a case of "external aggression." Once given, we have to keep that word.

Sympathies No Factor.

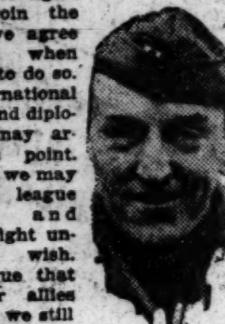

The trouble might come in China, Siam, Greece, India, or Egypt. We might be called to fight to keep 36,000,000 Chinese in Shantung under Japanese rule, or to hold India in the British empire. We might not like the job, we might even sympathize with the Chinese or the Hindus, but we should have given our word in a plain contract, and we should have to keep it.

That is the way a plain soldier looks in a hundred soldiers do not like it. They have seen foreign nations, and know they are foreign to us.

They know that every foreign nation, in war as in peace, acts first and last for itself.

Many Housewives Will Order Mayonnaise At The Restaurant But Not Make It At Home. Why?

PROBABLY because many still have the idea that mayonnaise is lots of trouble to prepare.

Or that they cannot make good mayonnaise—Or that it won't "keep."

None of these reasons keeps the woman who knows Mazola from making her own mayonnaise every week.

Mazola being an absolutely pure vegetable oil, blends the ingredients perfectly and imparts its own delicate flavor to the dressing—which will keep for weeks without separating.

Once you try Mazola you will prefer it to olive oil. It not only equals the finest imported olive oil, but costs about half the price.

Mazola is served by leading hotels, clubs and dining cars throughout America.

BEGIN ROUNDUP FOR SLAYERS OF EVANSTON GIRL

BOGUS NAVY OFFICER WHO DESERTED BRIDE SEIZED IN PORTLAND

Hunting for a clew to the identity of the robbers who killed Miss Florence Barton, Evanston society girl, and wounded her fiance, Howard R. Winter, on a lonely road near Kansas City Saturday night, the Kansas City police yesterday began a systematic roundup of gun toters.

A thorough search of underworld haunts was started. All suspicious characters were to be taken into custody and questioned in the hope that some of them may know the murderers and tell who they are. A reward of $5,000, approximately, has been offered for information that will lead to the arrest and conviction of the slayers.

Seek Names of Victims.

The police are trying to learn the names of all the victims of highwaymen on the country roads. There are many, they believe, who have made no reports of such robberies. The idea is to get as many victims as possible so that the prisoners may be identified should they be taken in the meantime.

The civic organizations, the chamber of commerce, and the Round Table Club Presidents are busy planning to cooperate with the police for a drive on criminals.

They have been aroused by the kill-

GLEN T. ALDRICH, who it is charged had posed as a Lieutenant commander of the United States navy, had passed $4,000 in forged checks, and had absconded with Miss Lilian Domincos, 18, of 1168 Wesley avenue, Oak Park, is believed to be under arrest in Portland, Ore. Aldrich deserted his bride three days after their wedding and wrote her he had the marriage annulled. Then it was learned he was charged with being a forger and an imposter. He had been an ensign during the war.

of Miss Barton, the murder of R. L. Giles, a wealthy oil man whose body was found two miles south of the spot where the Barton murder occurred, and other recent crimes.

Miss Barton's Funeral.

Miss Barton, who was 24 years old and an active member of the Junior League, was buried yesterday afternoon. Samuel Barton of Chicago, and Mrs. Paul Griffiths of Evanston, brother and sister, arrived in Kansas City Monday to attend the funeral services.

SPAIN TO MAKE BIG CHANGES IN DOMESTIC POLICY

MADRID, Oct. 5.—Announcement of a governmental program of wide scope and of great importance was made by Premier Diaz today during a session of the cabinet council, at which King Alfonso presided.

The premier's ministerial declaration of policy stated, among other things, his intention to apply when necessary for full preventive and repressive measures, and he declared he would, at the same time, continue reforming, reorganize social and economic laws, and pay close attention to the solution of industrial conflicts through the ministry of labor.

Bills are in preparation dealing with workmen's insurance and the housing problem, and plans have been made for the drafting of other measures regarding contracts between employers and workers.

Zone of Morocco.

Development of the Spanish zone of Morocco will be given to railroads, agriculture, mining, construction and hospitals will be undertaken vigorously, and an educational system will be established in which the creeds of the natives will be respected.

A complete plan for the reorganization and betterment of communications will be initiated, the premier stated, bringing Spain's system of railroad lines in more direct touch with sea ports, especially those trading with America.

Water power development will be undertaken and plans will be taken to reach an agreement with Portugal relative to the use of waterfalls in the Tagus and Duero rivers. Similarly, a program of forestation and irrigation will be initiated.

Army and Navy Changes.

Organic changes were foreshadowed by the premier in his speech relative to the army and navy. More opportunities will be offered soldiers to gain promotions. The navy will be brought more in line with the requirements of Spain as a maritime nation.

Financial reforms immediately will be undertaken to reduce revenue and expenditures. A new import tariff is being drafted to safeguard agricultural and industrial interests of Spain; at the same time making treaties of commerce with other nations easier to conclude, he added.

PLAN WELL AHEAD

Design the ultimate plant first; build in sections as needed. Each new building will then prove a successful unit in the ideal plant that is your aim.

DISCUSS EFFECT OF GUARANTEED PRICE ON H. C. L.

Western Men Attend Capital Conference.

BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.
Washington, D. C., Oct. 5.—[Special.]—Whether the practice of guaranteeing jobbers and retailers against a future decline in price tends to keep up the high cost of living formed a subject of debate today before the federal trade commission. Julian Armstrong of Chicago, head of the Armstrong bureau related industries, was one of a number who charged that it does.

"One hundred representatives of nearly all lines of industry responded to the commission's invitation to participate in the discussion. They were divided into three groups, one favoring the practice of guaranteeing against price decline, another favoring it with certain reservations, and the third flatly urging governmental action to prevent its continuation."

Mr. Armstrong presented one of the chief arguments in opposition to the practice of guaranteeing against a price decline. Other Chicagoans who were present at the conference representing varied opinions included Harold A. Abbott of the Albert Dickinson company; A. P. Husband, secretary of the Miller National federation; and John Ogan, attorney for the National Association of Loose Leaf Manufacturers.

"The practice is clearly one of unfair competition and was born of unfair competition," said Mr. Armstrong. "It had its origin in the disposition of the producer to predicate his operations on what his competitors are going to do and then go him one better. The practice directly fosters and keeps alive a practice of price discrimination in violation of section 2 of the Clayton act."

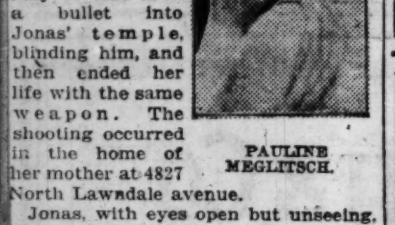

Among others who were sharply critical of the practice of guaranteeing against price decline was John Bradshaw, representing the National Retail Grocers association.

Purchaser Gets Worst Hit.
"I believe this practice has a tendency to prevent a decline in prices," said Mr. Bradshaw.

"I believe the practice is not in the public interest and has a tendency to prevent free competition which would force prices down."

BLIND JONAS, LED BY WIFE, TELLS OF LOVE TRAGEDY

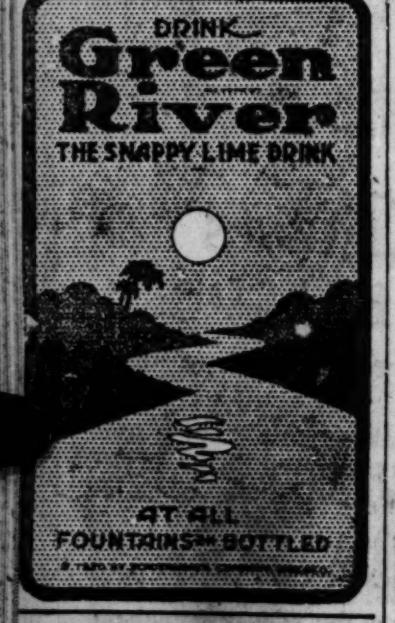

"We find that the shooting was due to humiliation and grief over disappointment and chagrin in his love affair with Julius Jonas." This was the verdict of a coroner's jury yesterday on the death of Miss Pauline Meglitsch, who on

JULIUS JONAS.
July 19 last fired a bullet into Jonas' temple, blinding him, and then ended her life with the same weapon. The shooting occurred in the home of her mother at 4227 North Lawndale avenue.

Jonas, with eyes open but unseeing, appeared at the inquest on the arm of his wife, Mrs. Sarah Feist Jonas, and was the sole witness. He did not reveal the details of his love affair with Pauline, but told how she had entered his room, revolver in hand, and had fired while crying out, "You, you, you!"

One letter, written April 22, by Miss Meglitsch to Jonas, was read to show her state of mind at the time of the tragedy.

POWERS MEET NEXT WEEK TO FINANCE CHINA

New York, Oct. 6.—Organization of the international consortium for the financial and economic assistance of China will be perfected at conferences of the American, British, French, and Japanese delegations beginning Oct. 11. The conference will be held at the chamber of commerce. Japan's delegates already here are here and British and French delegations are expected shortly.

The British delegates are Sir Charles Addis, S. F. Mayers, R. C. Witt, and W. E. Leveson. France will be represented by René de la Chaume, Henri Mazot, and Georges Picot, and Japan by M. K. Takeuchi and M. Ichinomiya.

Women's and Misses' Suits Complete Assortment at All-Inclusive Prices

Here are suits in a variety of styles limited only by the creations of the mode itself. The same latitude is noted in prices. So that such varied styles at so wide a price range surely assure a most successful selection at practically any determined plan of expenditure.

Every Fashion-favored Feature Is Seen in These Suits From $50 to $325

These are suits simple in line, with the unmistakable distinction fine tailoring always gives. And suits developed in fine fabrics with all this season's rich garnitures, yet with never a suggestion of over-elaboration. Colors and materials evidence an exceptional skill in taking into account each preference and occasion. Four typical modes are sketched.

At $150, a woman's suit, sketched at the right center, of embroidered duvet de laine in navy blue and Bedouin with squirrel collar.

At $110, a duvet de laine suit for misses, in beaver shade and navy blue with nutria collar. Sketched at the left. Note the tucking.

At $125, the misses' suit, sketched at the right, is of yalamo cloth in Suchow, navy blue, Malay brown, with Australian opossum collar.

At $115, a woman's chamoisine suit in Zanzibar or Malay brown, embroidered and beaded elaborately. Sketched at the left center.

Sharpens itself—a safety razor and stropping device in one

Do you know why the ordinary safety razor blade gives only a few good shaves—sometimes but one or two? Why it grows duller and duller every time it is used?

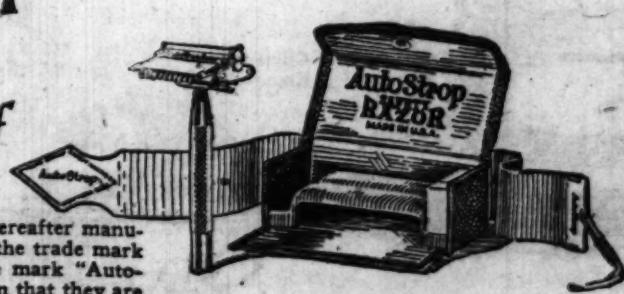

Look at any razor blade under a microscope and you will see hundreds of tiny teeth. Shaving bends these teeth out of line—makes them irregular. These irregular teeth catch in the beard, pull on the tiny hair follicles, and scrape the skin surface.

You don't need to put up with these discomforts if you use the AutoStrop Razor.

Built right into the frame of the AutoStrop Razor is a remarkable self-stropping device—simple and efficient. You don't have to take the razor apart nor even remove the blade. Just slip the strop through the razor head, and move the razor back and forth along the strop. In 10 seconds you have a new, sharp shaving edge! 500 cool, comfortable shaves are guaranteed from every dozen blades!

Ask your dealer today about the AutoStrop Razor trial plan.

On razors, strops, blades, etc., hereafter manufactured by us, we shall supply the trade mark "Valet" in addition to the trade mark "AutoStrop" as an additional indication that they are the genuine products of the AutoStrop Safety Razor Co., New York.

WESTWARD STAR OF IMMIGRATION TAKES ITS WAY

Lines and Steel Mills Claim Aliens.

BY ARTHUR M. EVANS.

New York, Oct. 5.—[Special.]—The tide is getting a large share of the new immigration. The new arrivals, the bulk of them, are heading for the mining fields, the steel and coal districts, and the factory centers where much unskilled labor is needed. Many of them remain in New York, where the clothing industry absorbs them; a comparatively small number make for the textile mills of New England, but most of the tide is on toward Pittsburgh and the west.

Large numbers are drifting to Chicago, especially to the Calumet district, which, ever since the steel strike, experienced a movement of alien labor back to Europe. Many have gone to Denver and other Rocky mountain points, where for the last two months the migration drift has been back to the old countries. Many of the immigrants, too, are bound still farther westward, with tickets for San Francisco, Seattle and Portland.

Bound for Many Points.

A typical queue of arrivals in the ticket office at Ellis Island, after being in the U. S. for thirty days, went for Chicago, ten for Detroit, and for eleven fifteen for San Francisco. Of the remainder no two had the same destination. They ranged from Thief River Falls, Minn., and from Pittsburgh to Salt Lake City and Sacramento. Officials at the port say the incoming movement is widely dispersed when it leaves New York for the interior than is usual in many years.

There is no direction, however, so far as employment conditions are concerned, and this is one phase to which Congress will devote attention when it takes up the subject of immigration. For instance, one group of six young men had tickets for Detroit, semi-skilled factory hands. They had had the automobile business was bad, and that a great shortage existed. They will reach that market at a time when jobs indeed of men are at a premium.

Labourers for Chicago.

Another group of busy young fellows, Scotch and Irish, unskilled building laborers, who were en route for Canada, spoke of the $1 an hour schedule for common labor in the building trades, which it seems has received some exploitation abroad. They expect to find work at the rate abundant. Yet in Chicago now building is the doldrum, and the next thirty days is expected to bring activities in some line practical to a standstill.

Immigration officials are anxious to keep the tide of Americans from Europe. In September the Ellis Island figures show 23,646 American men returned, as compared with 18,000 aliens who came in. The statistics are not well sorted, but it appears the greater part of this back to native movement was composed of naturalized citizens who returned to come to look things over and are not beating it back as fast as they get passage. Most of them bring a permanent or two.

Permanent Type of Workers.

Officials say the present immigration appears to be more permanent in type than general, rather than in the years before the war, when persons which moved back and forth from one country to another, according to the richness or abundance of wages and employment, are furnishing a less rowdy class of immigrants. It is particularly noticeable in the case of the immigration from Italy, larger proportions of which are now coming over for permanent residence.

Some organizations for the encouragement of immigration dwell upon the passport charge. The fee for getting a passport is now $10, but the point of it is that the visa seems to have become a mere formality as performed by American consuls abroad.

K. C. OF COUNTY HOSTS TONIGHT TO NEW OFFICER

Forty thousand Knights of Columbus in Cook county, through their representatives in the Chicago chapter, this evening will pay honors to State Deputy Edward Houlahan, recently seated as supreme director. This is the second demonstration for Mr. Houlahan within a week.

Tonight's affair will be held in the rooms of the Chicago chapter, at 165 West Madison street. J. A. Kennedy will preside and Judge James Donahoe will be toastmaster.

AMERICAN LEGION NOTES

Hyde Park post will hold a business meeting and smoker next Monday night in the Chicago Beach hotel. South Shore post will hold a smoker Friday night at 8 o'clock at Bryn Mawr Community house, Seventieth street and Jeffery avenue. Two Chicago Olympic champions, Frank Loomis and Frank Foss, will give a talk on the recent Olympic games.

MISCELLANEOUS.

"The Colonial Wars" will be discussed by Deputy Governor William Tracy Alford of the Society of Colonial Wars at a meeting of the Veteran Corps, 1st Infantry, L. N. G., at First Infantry armory, next Monday night.

BONFIRE BURNS KILL GIRL.

Myrtle Richard, 2918 West Twenty-fifth street, died yesterday of burns suffered Friday when she attempted to light a bonfire while she was playing near a bonfire.

ARIZONA, KANSAS, NORTH CAROLINA ARE GROWING UP

Washington, D. C., Oct. 5.—North Carolina and Arizona had the largest numerical increases in their history in the last ten years.

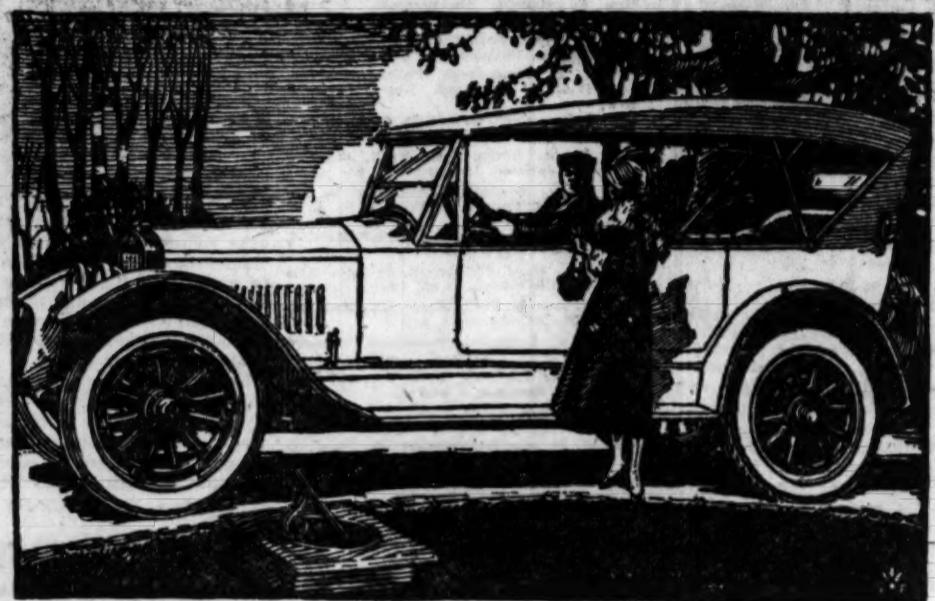

Kansas showed its second lowest numerical growth and as a result fell from twenty-second state to below Oklahoma and Louisiana. Here are the figures:

Pct.	Population, Increase, Inc.
Arizona	222,273 128,919 63.1
Kansas	1,763,163 75,258 4.6
North Carolina	3,154,484 256,199 15.9
Bedford, Ind. [revised]	8,976; increase 360, or 4.1 per cent.

A COUPLE OF HOLDUPS.

Edward Grahams, 4516 Bertrand avenue, a private taxi driver, drove two men from the shop to the intersection of Bertrand and Western avenue Monday night. There they held him and relieved him of $22. Three men with revolvers held up a lunch room at 1004 East Fifty-fifth street and escaped with $30.

Addition to Rosehill Mausoleum Is Now Under Roof

We would be pleased to have those interested in this modernized custom of burial arrange to inspect the construction of this building at their earliest convenience.

This addition, heated by steam, will contain twenty-two beautiful MEMORIAL ROOMS, varying in size and detail to meet requirements.

We have found from experience that no building can long endure severe climatic changes without provision for heating, ventilating and proper care.

A representative will be at the Cemetery each day to show visitors through the Mausoleum and give further details. Trust funds now aggregate over $1,400,000, and are increasing daily, which assures permanent upkeep of Rosehill Cemetery.

BOB ROPER BEATS TONY MELICHAR IN LIMIT BOUT

Tribune Decisions

Decisions of The Tribune fight represented last night were:
At Kenosha—Bob Roper beat Tony Melichar [10]; Tommy Mandell beat Barney Dolan [10]; Eddie Raynor and Vic Stroh fought draw [10].

BY RAY PEARSON.

Kenosha, Wis., Oct. 5.—[Special.] In a contest lacking in thrills that went the limit of ten rounds, Capt. Bob Roper tonight was accorded a shade victory over Tony Melichar. These Chicago heavyweights sent into the windups by Promoter Bill Frazier, didn't arouse wild enthusiasm by their actions in the ring.

Melichar made his big play with his right hand for a knockout, and though he tried often, managed to connect only a couple of times on Roper's head, and the two fighters probably landed too high to do any material damage. The thing that can be said for Tony is that he did nearly all the leading, but Roper was hard to find. In boxing skill Roper had a shade the better of the milling, outscoring his opponent.

Roper Lands to Mouth.

One of Roper's left jabs started the blood from Melichar's mouth in the third round, and in several of the sessions after that Roper at close quarters landed on the sore mouth. The referee spent a good part of his time breaking the men from clinches. Roper weighed 182 pounds and Melichar 187½ at 3 o'clock.

The windup was put on after a struggle over the money Roper would draw. It finally was settled and the bout went on according to schedule. Roper being paid on a percentage basis.

The crowd was a big disappointment, many vacant seats staring the fans in the face. The Kenosha opening was not a money making show, for there were probably more than 1,200 fans, few being ring-side. The Chicago gang didn't take the card enthusiastically, and only about 100 showed up.

Mandell Outfights Dolan.

Nancy Mandell, the Rockford kid who has been shaking quite a bit by his victories in recent bouts, secured a shade victory over Barney Dolan of Chicago. Mandell scored Dolan with a short right in the ninth round, and had an indisputable margin. They weighed in at 117½ pounds. It was a nice battle, with no idle moments.

In another ten rounder, Eddie Raynor and Vic Stroh fought draw [10].

Flasher Set for 27—The Boston, ray de los horrores, run on Yankees, se anoto hoy el cuadros tira home run, bateando un hit al ritmo de 100 millas por hora, el primer inning que hicieron el circuito y dos.

LEVINSKY SIGNS TO BOX BECKETT

New York, Oct. 5.—R. G. Welsh of London, signed a contract today with Dan Morgan, manager of Battling Levinsky, to conduct a twenty round bout to a decision between Levinsky and Joe Beckett, English heavyweight champion, to be held in London within three months after the Levinsky-Carpenier bout in Jersey City Oct. 12.

Levinsky is to receive a guarantee of $500, with the privilege of 20 per cent of the gross receipts; $2,500 for training expenses, and round trip transportation for two.

A draw in the contract reads: "To get the above named Levinsky must beat Georges Carpenter in the first bout Oct. 12, 1920. In the event of a draw with Carpenter, Levinsky is to get a guarantee of $25,000."

Sharkey-Burman Winner to Get Chance at Title

The winner of the Jack Sharkey-Joe Burman bantamweight clash at East Chicago Saturday afternoon will get Pete Herman in a fifteen round contest for the national title. This was the information imparted to both bantams yesterday when Lee Flynn, matchmaker for Tex Rickard, said he had signed Herman, the champion.

The semi-windup is between Teddy Murphy and Bud Christians.

ORIOLES DEFEAT
ST. PAUL, 5 TO 3

Baltimore, Md., Oct. 5.—Single-handed Jack Bentley, star pitcher and first baseman of the Baltimore International league champions, sent St. Paul, winners of the American association pennant, to defeat this afternoon in the name of the post-season series 5 to 3.

While his twirling was a bit loose toward the close, his hitting was of the Babe Ruth type, and his two home run drives were responsible for four of the five runs chalked up to his team's credit. Score:

Brooklyn, N. Y., Oct. 6.—[Special.]

A margin too slender to be conclusive, Cleveland won the first game of the world's series from Brooklyn today before a crowd which packed Ebbets' field to the limit and numbered less than 400.

The score was 3 to 1, but the two runs by which the Indianstrumphant were sort of fluky and did not mean anything in determining the relative strength of the rival teams. They looked to be evenly matched and a stiff wind blow through. I'll say to be in camp now. He began to be in camp now. The Indians across lots gave the Indians the break that settled the game.

Robbie Stars Marquard.

Bob Robinson followed the dope by getting Rube Marquard against Cleveland, and Ross Speaker did his best to cover the southpaw by inserting three relatives who batted right-handed into the lineup. Before the bat-was over Robinson used three pitchers and a flock of pinch hitters, while

Kilgore wound up with his regular team.

The play which decided the game

occurred in the second inning, following a lightning first round for both teams. Burns popped a little fly which ended like a cinch for Kilgore.

The job from Gowanus bay blew it over first with Pete in full cry after it.

He could not get under it. To see the ball. It fell safe or two or three runs from first base and just back of the base line.

Asleep at Second.

Burns was wise to the situation and not running toward second. Koney picked up the ball and fired it in the general direction of second base, but there was nobody covering. Kilgore was chasing the fly and Olson was sleep.

The ball traveled to the left field dell stands and before Wheat could reach it Burns completed the circuit.

It wasn't Babe Ruth swat, but it counted more.

Ruth retired Gardner, then passed

Wood and a wind blown single by

Sewell, followed by a trailing two-base-hit by O'Neill; scored another run in that round and those two returned the order.

Rest of Way Even.

Outfield of that inning the two teams were even. Each made five safe hits and the only error was tabbed against

Koney because Olson failed to cover

second. One of the Brooklyn swats was due to the wind because Wamby had judged a low fly by Olson in the outfield, but it cut no figure in the out.

Bob Robinson did not need to use any pinch hitting in the sixth, and he had to wait for the Indians to score for the two rounds he pitched before he, too, gave way to a pinch

pitcher who delivered in the eighth.

That put it up to Cadore to work in the last round and he retired three men easily. As fast as his substitutes came to bat against right handed pitchers Speaker sent in his regulars and wound up the game with his real

team.

Coveleskie in Perfect Form.

Coveleskie worked the full route and was accorded perfect support. He probably would have shut out the Indians if it had been necessary. The teamally recorded for the home team in the seventh was due to the fact the Indians did not play close in to cut it at the plate. The run which Cleveland scored of Marquard in the fourth was made by a long drive for two bases, one by Joe Wood and the other by Steve O'Neill.

The combat indicated that both teams are stronger defensively than they are offensively. Robinson used three pitchers without in any way weakening

the pitching staff. Speaker went through with one slabman. Neither team hit the ball enough to worry

as adherents of the other club.

Defensive Plays of Class.

It was not a battle between two champion teams as the baseball world comes to knowchampions. Instead was a controversy between two second rate teams whom Dame Fortune handed to the ultimate baseball honors in 1920, and she probably will determine which one shall wear the purple and blue-tinted "World's Champions."

Defensive plays of this class were rare. Griffith and the most difficult play when he backed up against the right field wall and speared with one hand a long drive by Speaker in the fifth. There was nobody on at the time, but the play was a corker.

Speaker himself retaliated by stealing the drive hit from Krueger's bat at the start of the eighth. He had to make a shoestring catch of it while he was in the run, but he made it.

Home for Each Team.

Each team pulled a boner. Olson would have covered second base on a little fly in the second inning, and that would have shut off one;

one of Cleveland's runs. O'Neill had a deep hole on the bases in the game, but the play never ought to have been possible.

There was nothing doing in the first,

but the second brought joy to the few

Cleveland roosters on hand. Burns had a fly by first and second,

but safely because the wind blew away from Kilgore, and because he did not call for it in time. With

THE GUMPS—DING-A-LING-DING

OWNERS CONFER
ON BASEBALL'S
REORGANIZATION

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

Steps toward the complete reorganization of professional baseball will be taken immediately after the world's series is over. It was learned at an informal conference of magnates of five major league clubs yesterday that no time will be wasted in an effort to reconstruct the manner of operation of the national game in such a way that it may be protected from any such scandal as it has gone through in the last year.

In the private office of Alfred American, attorney for the White Sox and Cubs, were gathered officials of three American league clubs and two from the National league.

Magnates at Conference.

In the meeting were William Wright and A. D. Lazear of the Cubs; Charles A. Comiskey, president, and Harry Grabiner, secretary of the White Sox; President Stanahan and Vice President of the New York Nationals; President Rupert and Vice President Huston of the New York Americans; and President of the Boston Red Sox.

The New York magnates and Grabiner signed an indorsement of the Lazear plan of reorganization. This makes seven major league clubs now in favor of the plan to place baseball under the control of a superior tribunal to be composed of three of America's biggest men, who have absolutely no interest in the game, and who shall be the representatives of the public in the sport.

Fight in Baseball Possible.

Undoubtedly some definite plan of action was discussed at the gathering. The magnates were in session for five hours.

That the affair may develop into a battle, with part of the National and part of the American on opposite sides, is possible. If President Johnson opposes the scheme the five American league clubs which stuck loyally to him last year in his fight against the New York, Chicago, and Boston clubs will stick with him again. Some of the National league clubs might also side with him.

Record for Scoreboards.

More scoreboards were on display here than ever before. East Sixth street, between Superior and Rockwell avenues, was roped off by the police department, and several thousand persons congregated, watching the progress of the game from a newspaper scoreboard.

"Chicago's Biggest Man," Ogden Armour on Commey

J. Ogden Armour referred yesterday to Charles A. Comiskey as "Chicago's biggest man," in signing a Board of Trade letter indorsing the action of the Sox owner in suspending eight players indicted on a charge of bribery involving the last world's series. Three hundred and sixty-five members of the board signed the testimonial letter.

Thompson Men M Court Threats.

BY E. O. PHILLIPS
Springfield, Ill., Oct. 5.—The canvassing board will meet at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning in the office of Gov. Lowden to canvass the returns of the Illinois primary election. Cook county returns, as certified by the election commissioners, and County Clerk Swetland, received by Secretary of State on October 4, were certified yesterday.

Unless there is court action on the part of the state canvassing board, the prospect for ten days is that the state canvassing board will receive a record of the votes that are questioned. The canvassing board has twenty-four hours to complete its function.

If that ten days, authorized by law, intervene for the filing of protests or objections, and thereby prevent the certification of the nominees by the county clerks not later than October 10, the attitude of a majority of the canvassing board appears tonight to be that the returns as they stand will leave the way open for an Oglebay certificate to be filed during the ten days, rather than to face the possibility of having no Republican candidate or governor certified to the November election.

Board Urged to Act.

The members of the canvassing board have been flooded today with telegrams urging the board to act on the returns. These come largely from county organizations put up during the primary campaign for the city ticket.

But other downstate Republicans

under the influence of the city leaders are anxious over the situation.

Ten Days to File Contests.

There seems to be a growing suspicion in Springfield that the law is sufficient in sustaining this position.

Small and that the proper can-vency to follow is to immediately file and secure a record of the votes that are questionable. The canvassing board has twenty-four hours to complete its function.

Tailored Lines Distinguish Hats in the English Room

THE woman who preserves the smart-tailored type will find a large selection of Hats to her taste in this room—velvet or duvetin sailors, flaring small turbans or toques, trimmed with a fancy pin, ornament, feather motif or bow. Street shades are combined with coques or pheasant. Leather applique and cutwork are shown against dark backgrounds. The Hat above pictured is of velvet, and shows the picturesque and becoming artist bow.

The Sports Hat Emphasized

THE various outdoor sports which the Fall renders enjoyable, call for a number of different types of Hats, all of an imperishable kind which will withstand knock-about wear, if necessary.

Riding Hats, sailors, tricorn or novelty shapes are of hatter's plush in navy, brown and black.

Other Hats of hatter's plush come in black, brown, navy and old blue. Some have plush crowns with beaver brims. There are also some imported English felt Hats.

Sports Sets of brushed wool for the college girl are in all colors, and include cap, scarf and belt.

The Great Beauty of Furs Marks This Season as Unusual

THE development in recent years of the designing of Furs has brought them from the point of being regarded primarily for warmth to that of reflecting instantly the most recent and beautiful of style tendencies. In the fashioning of Fur Wraps and other pieces, the fineness of line and detail equals that put into the most delicate fabrics.

Sables and Blue and Silver Fox

Fox Furs of all kinds make the comfortable, becoming Scarfs especially attractive and desirable for Autumn. At present a number of Blue and Silver Foxes form a collection of considerable note. A Blue Fox is sketched.

One- and two-skin Sable Scarfs may be had of fine, dark, silky skins. These make wonderfully smart little chokers.

Distinguished Wraps and Coats

The finer Furs, such as kolinsky, mink, caracul, squirrel, mole and seal, often combined with contrasting Fur, have been used for Wraps. Every detail in these, such as perfectly matched skins, expert workmanship, exquisite linings and other finishings, contributes to their perfection.

Hudson seal, dyed muskrat, caracul, pony and other Furs for more serviceable wear, make coats with comfortable rolling collars and deep cuffs of contrasting fur.

Coatees and Capes

The two-tier Cape on the figure in the center is of Russian Gopher, and is but one of the many delightful models of this cape or coatee type so delightful for Autumn.

Fifth Floor, North, Wabash

ENHANCING every-day life by its wholesome, joyous influence, the tendency toward gay and brilliant color becomes more and more noticeable as the season advances. Hats, of course, and the accessories which accompany them, are its most natural medium. But an effulgence of color in fabric and decoration glows throughout the Store. Its interesting use in the decorating of the home is illustrated in the Furnished Rooms and the Home Furnishing Sections.

To Leaf-Strewn Woods and Bright Plumaged Birds the Artist-Milliner Goes for Color

THE rich coloring of the pheasant, the cock, the parrot and many another brilliant bird, the mellow colors of harvest fields and shaded tones of Autumn-tinted woods, have lent inspiration to Hat designers this Fall. Gay are the hues of soft crush velvet shapes that adjust themselves to lines individually becoming. Soft browns and grey tones of the woods blend delightfully with furs. Bright ornaments are of Chinese make, coral, lapis, jade, topaz and agate, curiously wrought and carved, sometimes set against a turquoise background of the kingfisher bird's feathers. Ostrich plumes are tipped with silver and gold, and glints of metal gleam through soft falls of delicate lace.

In the Debutante Salon, Hats have been designed with a true understanding of the spirit of youth. Wide, airy brims of lace shade the youthful face demurely, or little shapes, saucily upturned, reveal its sweetness and piquance with engaging frankness.

Salle Francaise and Salle des Debutantes, Fifth Floor, North, State

The Millinery Sections this week form a brilliant display, in which the cases of beautiful birds, flowers and Autumn leaves illustrate how Nature's own coloring has been interpreted in the Season's Millinery scheme. Lectures on color in birds will take place daily at 11 and 3 o'clock in the Sections.

Ostrich Lends Grace to Hats in the American Room

THE Hats in this room, trimmed with flowers or feathers, are those from which a woman may choose the Hat to match a certain costume.

Ostrich has been developed to an extent hitherto unrealized. Plumes that droop gracefully from brims or encircle crowns are tinted to match the velvet of the Hat. Or white plumes are used effectively with black, as in the Hat pictured above. Lovely silk and metal flowers are also shown, all exemplifying the extensive use of bright color which is so much the keynote of the season.

Joy of Creating Prompts Women to Trim Their Own Hats

THIS season presents a wealth of interest and inspiration to the woman who enjoys putting her own individual touch to the trimming of her Hat. All ready, but for a pin or ornament you may choose, you will find youthful, becoming shapes of velvet, embroidered with contrasting or self colors in silk floss, or in metal thread. There are lovely shades of blue and brown, as well as black.

STATE CANVASS BOARD FAVORS SMALL, REPORT

Thompson Men Make Court Threats.

BY E. O. PHILLIPS.
Springfield, Ill., Oct. 5.—The state canvassing board will meet at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning in the office of Gen. Lowden to canvass the official returns of the Illinois primary election. The Cook county returns, as certified by the election commissioners of Chicago and County Clerk Sweitzer, were received by Secretary of State Emmerson yesterday.

There is court action to follow, the prospect for tomorrow being that the state canvassing board will issue a certificate to Small. This action is indicated by a vote within the board of two to one, and if the Small committee holds good that the duties of the board are strictly ministerial and its members are not authorized to demand the returns under any circumstances, the vote in the board may be unanimous.

Ten Days to File Contest.

There seems to be a growing opinion throughout the state that the law is sufficiently broad in sustaining this position of Mr. Small and that the proper cause for his victory is to institute a contest and secure a recount of the primary returns. The canvassing board has twenty-four hours in which to complete its functions, and it may be, authorized by law, to postpone the filing of contest documents, and thereby permit certification of the nominees to the county clerks not later than Oct. 16. The attitude of a majority of the canvassing board appears tonight to be to certify the returns as they stand and to lay open for an Oglesby committee to file during the ten day interval, other than to face the possibility of having no Republican candidate certified to the November election.

Board Urged to Act.

The members of the canvassing board have flooded today with telegrams urging the board to act on the face of returns. These come largely from organizations that put up during the primary campaign for the city hall ticket.

Local downtown Republicans not under the influence of the city hall are unanimous over the situation, and the Oglesby primary organizations urge the state officials to do their best to the apparent voter, and push up the row as quickly as possible.

PROSECUTION THREATENED

Creates that criminal prosecution will follow the refusal of the state canvassing board, which meets at Springfield at 11 a. m. today, to accept the certified returns on the Small-Solomon vote made last night in behalf of the Thompson managers. The audience of the deliberations of the board.

These threats were directed principally against Gov. Frank O. Lowden, of the members of the board, but only equally to Secretary of State L. E. Emmerson and State Treasurer F. E. Sterling, other members of the board.

They came from Robert E. Crowe, Republican nominee for state's attorney of Cook county.

Ogues Warns of Prosecution.

"It is openly charged in many quarters that there is a plot to rob the Republicans of Illinois of their right to nominate the candidate of their choice," said Mr. Crowe in a recent statement.

"Gov. Lowden, in his letter to County Clerk Sweitzer in which he says that the election returns from Cook county will be set aside, is the state canvassing board in a position contrary to the express provisions of the law and the further fact that the governor has conferred with his official officers, give color to the charge."

"I am a candidate for state's attorney of Cook county, and I warn these men who apparently would commit a crime in their mad efforts to rule or destroy, that if the conspiracy to which this county is carried shall be detected, the strenuous high ethical conduct of the malfeasors."

"I shall use all the power of the state's attorney to see that the conspirators, no matter who they may be, are properly punished if I find the plot has been violated."

Lowden Refuses Comment.

Gov. Lowden, who was in Chicago, refused to comment upon the action of the canvassing board or the nature of fraud made in the petition of Lieut. Gov. John G. Englehardt, who had had no opportunity to file it over. The governor said it would be time enough to talk about the county returns, which the Oglesby men claim are fraudulent, when they come before the state canvassing board.

Burns' Decision Today.

James T. Burns of the Cook county court will announce his decision in the petition filed with him by the attorneys representing Oglesby. The prevailing opinion is that it will be adverse to Oglesby.

E. Cleveland, special assistant corporation counsel, represented the hearing. He charged that there had been frauds in territory that formerly had been asserted by Oglesby and asserted that the latter had benefited by fraud as small.

The petition was filed in the circuit court, it had been planned by Oglesby attorneys to follow it with an action in the Circuit court if necessary. The Oglesby attorneys refuse to discuss the possibility of further proceedings until those in the circuit court are out of the way.

The Best in One of the Best

BY PERCY HAMMOND.
FOR many seasons Miss Barrymore has been too good for her plays and has endowed some spurious mediocrities with a dignity undeserved. Releaving Fortune now, however, seems to have come to her with both arms full, and again she is a player well-bestowed, happy in the bounteous "Declasse." This is a drama, witty and sophisticated, involving uncommon characters in a skillful tragic tale. It is not, need it be said, a perfect work in the astigmatic eye of solemn criticism, but it is the most effective of the American efforts for a long, long time. And since it prospers as an adult thing, in an art where adult things do not often prosper, let the patient watchdog bay a deep-mouthed "Ho! Ho! Ho! Wowl!" Miss Zoo Atkins. Its author is a typical New Yorker, knowing well her own aching hearts and bleeding hands of the busy places. She is a native of Humansville, Mo., a queer name for the birthplace of a playwright.

The woman drawn by Miss Atkins and lived at Powers' by Miss Barrymore is Lady Helen Haden, daughter of a fated line of courtiers, troubadours, and warriors, known in England as the "Mad Varrecks." The Mad Varrecks ride hard and they love deep, and no great battle has been fought for God, King, or country since Saint George, on land or sea, fought a Varreck who there either with a battle-axe or an archery unit, or in the tanks. They are the Englishmen of whom Lady Helen says that they love life more and value life less than any people on the earth. She is of the straight-running, play-acting sort, and if she thinks a thing is not "cricket" she makes it so, with clear eye and a steady voice. Still, there has been talk.

In three scenes particularly do Miss Barrymore and "Declasse" excel. First, in the sordid drawing room quarrel with her drunken husband, the fat, dim-witted, and unscrupulous Robin (American) cheating at cards and denounces him. She defends this weak but handsome Yankee loyalty and with relentless determination; but when she sees for herself that he is dishonest, she gamely for (he has her letters) apologizes and ejects him. Do you like, as I do, the unimportant minutiae of a characterization? If so, do, listen to Miss Barrymore say, "Let her out!" she did not say, "Get her out!"

Miss Atkins omits, for good reasons, the episode wherein Sir Bruce unjustly discards Lady Helen as impure. But the omission brings more quickly the finest scene in the play, and the most admirably acted. This is the interview between Lady Helen, now among the furtive hordes of newsmen in New York, and Ralph Solomon the quiet, opulent subtle, likable Jew who has made himself aristocrat from a newsboy in Battery Park.

There is "fine writing" in this scene, a good exhibition of the author's endeavor throughout the play to idealize the commonplace of human speech. The conversation between the hunted Helen (she has pawned her pearls) and the devoted, courtly, but ambiguous Solomon is a bit heavenly. But exquisite acting by Miss Barrymore and by Mr. Claude King give it an earthly illusion. The patrician words which ordinarily would flow easily and evenly from the surface of the mind in this scene force their way up through "enormous silences" and along devils and intricate channels from the hidden springs of character.

Here are no cheap conjurers pulling pretty ribbons from their mouths; but humans from Humansville, speaking, as Augustus Thomas would say, the musical language of the crises. In the perfection of this interlude you can forget, if not forgive, the shoddy stage management of Mr. Eden Payne, who, I think, falls lamentably short of the mark.

Mr. Arnold also said that to save possible delay in the preparation of the 1921 budget his committee will begin the compilation of facts and figures about Nov. 1.

CITY WARS ON COAL DEALERS.

With coal scarce and high, City Sealer Morris Eller is conducting a red campaign against short weight dealers from his desk in the Michigan Avenue office.

William F. Cluett, his chief assistant, had a score of complaints against coal dealers yesterday and in two cases found gross violations of the weights and measures ordinances. In one case a dealer was found to be 1,700 pounds short on one five-ton delivery and 1,575 pounds short on another.

"We were married in Jamaica on May 3 and took the first steamer for New York," he says. "My bride was 18 and I was 68."

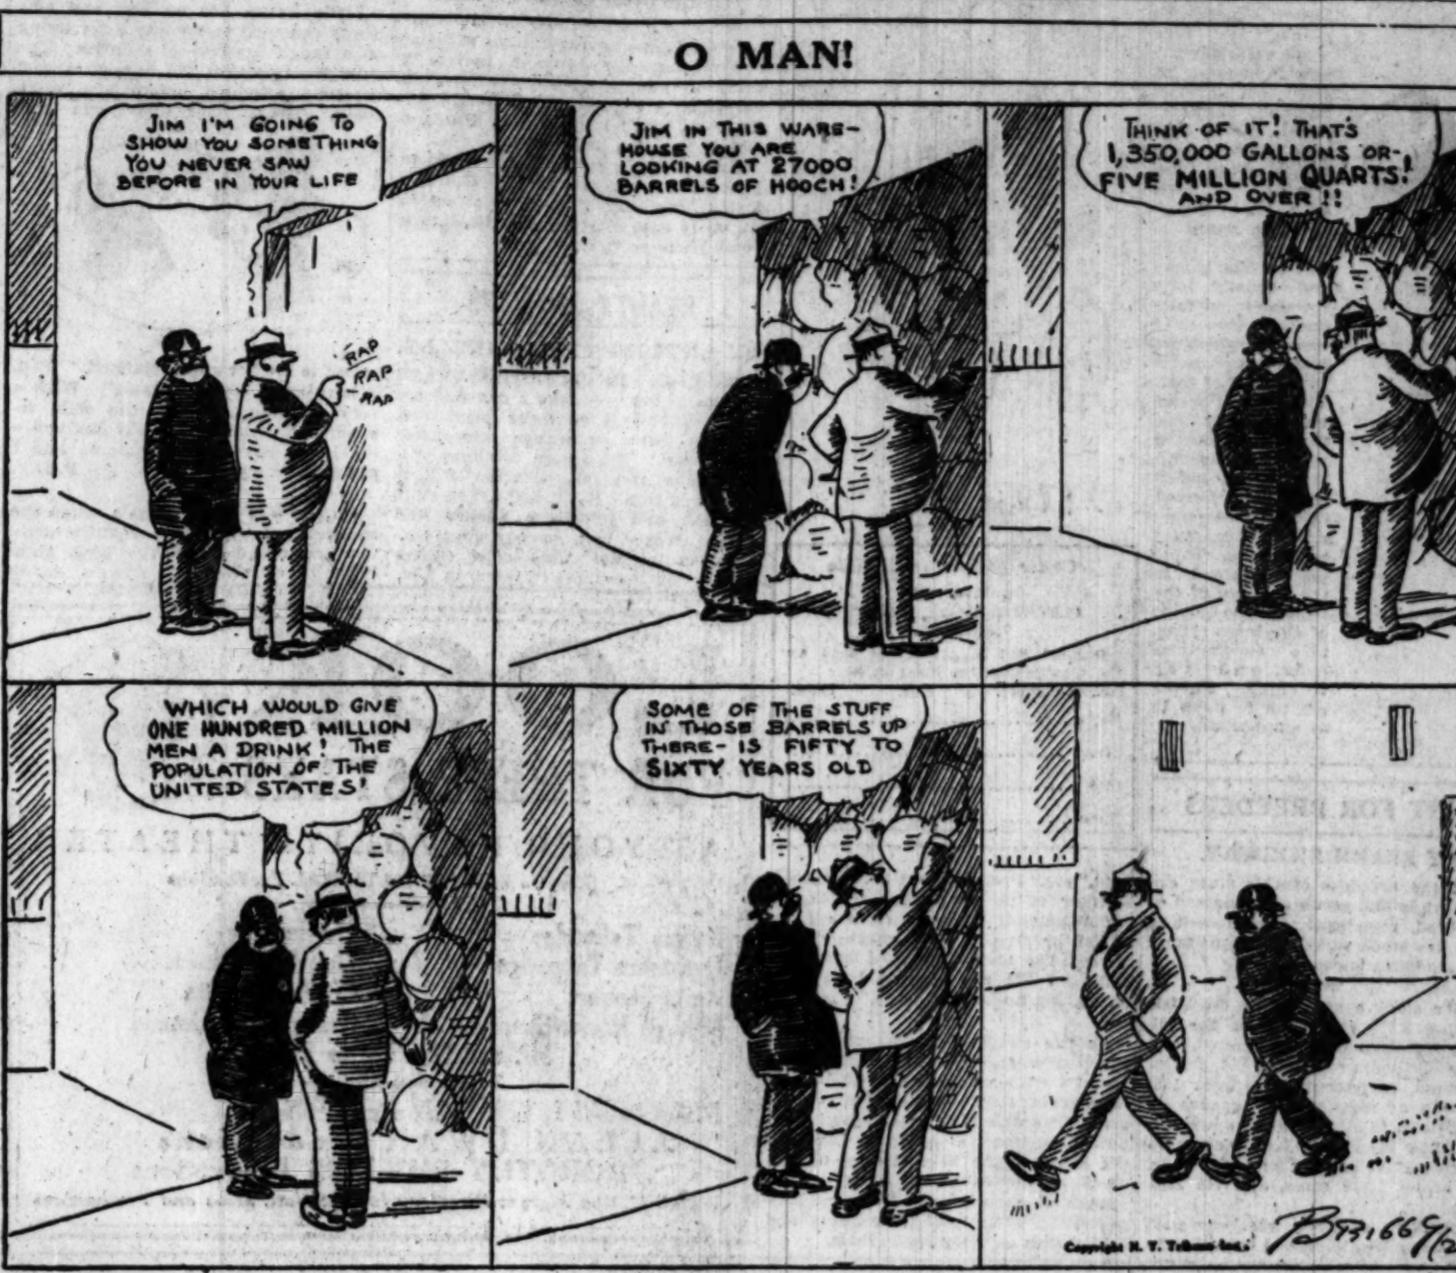

"Aboard the vessel was a handsome Cuban. He made love to my wife and she was captivated. The day we landed in New York she left me—I think she went away with the Cuban."

SWITCHMEN SHOT.

At Wabash and Clark streets William Walker, 1178 Washington boulevard, railroad watchman, was shot twice in the abdomen. He said a man called Tracy shot him during a quarrel.

One of the others brought to THE TRIBUNE's attention is Bandmaster Charles W. Bennett, U. S. N. R., of Malden, Mass.

Edward Hines says neither he nor Mrs. Hines were properly mentioned in connection with a benefit described in yesterday's issue. He said: "As far as Mrs. Hines and I sponsoring a dance at Arcadia hall, the first intimation we had of any such dance was what we read in the newspapers this morning. Our names were used entirely without authority."

There will be no coal famine in the schools next year if I can help it," said Mr. Arnold. "The board should make only one contract, and that with the mine owners. We can then have our own switch track and coal elevators and keep the coal coming into the schools as fast as it is mined.

Lady Helen's composed and immaculate attire, after she has hit fatally by a taxicab, has been the topic elsewhere of acquiescent, though whistling, comment. But we have to remember that Death in some of these stories is not what the poet Sygne said of it:

... a poor wretched thing, dies.

Miss Barrymore's final moment are King Charles' were unconsciously long, and they are made more cruel by the indisposition of those who sorrowfully surround her, to find out where she has been smitten, and how seriously. It is a grievous thing, anyway, to see a Barrymore die, even in an ideal counterfeit.

There are no cheap conjurers pulling pretty ribbons from their mouths; but humans from Humansville, speaking, as Augustus Thomas would say, the musical language of the crises. In the perfection of this interlude you can forget, if not forgive, the shoddy stage management of Mr. Eden Payne, who, I think, falls lamentably short of the mark.

Mr. Arnold also said that to save possible delay in the preparation of the 1921 budget his committee will begin the compilation of facts and figures about Nov. 1.

CITY WARS ON COAL DEALERS.

With coal scarce and high, City Sealer Morris Eller is conducting a red campaign against short weight dealers from his desk in the Michigan Avenue office.

William F. Cluett, his chief assistant, had a score of complaints against coal dealers yesterday and in two cases found gross violations of the weights and measures ordinances. In one case a dealer was found to be 1,700 pounds short on one five-ton delivery and 1,575 pounds short on another.

"We were married in Jamaica on May 3 and took the first steamer for New York," he says. "My bride was 18 and I was 68."

"Aboard the vessel was a handsome Cuban. He made love to my wife and she was captivated. The day we landed in New York she left me—I think she went away with the Cuban."

SWITCHMEN SHOT.

At Wabash and Clark streets William Walker, 1178 Washington boulevard, railroad watchman, was shot twice in the abdomen. He said a man called Tracy shot him during a quarrel.

SCHOOLS TO BUY COAL AT MINES; AVERT "FAMINE"

Arnold Predicts Big Saving to City.

Plans to eliminate any chance of a coal famine in the public schools by purchasing fuel directly from the operators may be presented to the board of education at its next meeting on Oct. 13 by George E. Arnold, president of the finance committee.

If his idea is adopted, the coal contract scheme will be done away with and thousands of dollars saved the tax payers which retail dealers now receive.

There will be no coal famine in the schools next year if I can help it," said Mr. Arnold. "The board should make only one contract, and that with the mine owners. We can then have our own switch track and coal elevators and keep the coal coming into the schools as fast as it is mined.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

What is the best way to make a million dollars?

WHERE ASKED.

Clark street and Grand avenue.

THE ANSWERS.

Mrs. Jean Feiner, 1922 South Michigan avenue, housewife: "If you have to work hard for a good many years to get a million dollars, you have to have some money to start with. Then you have to take a chance on a stock investment. Columbus took a chance, and if you succeed as well as he did you will have your million."

W. E. Rowens, 1504 East Fifty-third street, agent of the army intelligence department—Work, work, and a lot of it. Nobody ever made a million dollars in a million days, but you have to have some money to start with."

Edith Fry, 520 North Clark street, saleslady—Be a Ponz. That's the easiest way I know of. Or a successful confidence man in a year can have a million stored away from the eyes of the police. There are millionaires who make big money."

L. E. Spindler, 509 North Dearborn street, broker—Some time ago I was making only about $1,000 a month. I am not making any nor am I losing any. I stand about even for the year. I am selling short now. I only need about $399.

Curtis C. Pritchard, 2757 Grand avenue, movie operator—Be a booze runner. There is more money in that than there is in the United States mint. There are a million and one ways to make a million. That is only one. Be a movie queen or a landlord. They are on their way to make many millions, not one.

E. E. Spindler, 509 North Dearborn street, broker—Some time ago I was making only about $1,000 a month. I am not making any nor am I losing any. I stand about even for the year. I am selling short now. I only need about $399.

Fritz P. Schaefer, 3539 Princeton avenue, in Mercy hospital in Chicago, sustained injuries sustained in an automobile crash at Thirty-first street and Shields avenue. She was riding in a machine owned and driven by Anthony Teden, 3640 South Wells street, when another machine hit the Teden's car.

Arthur Haenel, sentenced to hang on Oct. 15 for the murder of his wife, Cecilia, doesn't want another reprieve.

This became known yesterday when his attorney, Philip R. Davis, presented new evidence gathered by the American Legion to Gov. Lowden.

Haenel has been in jail since Feb. 4, 1919. He has been reprieved three times. The first reprieve, granted by Judge Hugo Pam, reached him as he mounted the gallows steps.

"Comes Back," and Comes Back Strong

"WHILE NEW YORK SLEEPS."
Produced by Fox.
Directed by Charles J. Brabin.
Presented at the Boston.
CAST:
Estelle Taylor,
Marc MacDermott,
William Locke,
Earl Metcalfe,
Harry Sothern.

By Mae Tinée.
This production divided into three parts, with each part telling a separate and distinct story and the same players participating in all three.

Do you remember the repertoire of playlets in which Holbrook Blinn was starred on the stage a number of years ago? "When New York Sleeps" is reminiscent of these. Only this time Marc MacDermott is the white light about which the other lights revolve. A one time favorite, of recent years practically a stranger to the screen, in this photoplay he comes back into his own. He is fine in all three episodes.

The first story is a tale of suburban life. In this Mr. MacDermott, as a husband, supposed to be dead, walks in upon the home of his wife, by that time happily married to another and the mother of a little son. I must not tell you the dénouement.

The second story you must hear nothing about, for it is the best of the three, and the third I will not tell you because it should not be spoiled for you beforehand.

In the third story Mr. MacDermott is a paralytic. He does nothing but sit in a chair, but his eloquent eyes behold crime and betray the criminals. A difficult role most wonderfully portrayed.

There are a number of women, you will agree, I'm sure, more fitted for the star's support than Miss Taylor. She's too good-looking, too young, and too gaily eyed sentimentalists and abandon. Her facial contortions would do credit to the violent ward at Dunning. A pretty girl and a hard worker, but too intense. You feel like turning the hose on her.

Earl Metcalfe is to be classified with Miss Taylor. Others in the support are to believe in.

It's quite a trick to put over a series of pictures like this in an hour and a half and make them snappy. This Fox has done.

Congratulations!

DORIS BLAKE'S ANSWERS

"Wouldn't Speak."

"Dear Miss Blake: A few months ago I met a young man. I went out with him considerably. We grew to love each other, but through a misunderstanding on his part we quarreled. I am still in love with him but after that he was very different to me before long would even pass me on the street without speaking. I cannot remember anything that I could have done to have him act this way. What would I like to know? Miss Blake, do you think this young man really loved me or do you think he never cared and took this opportunity to stop our friendship?"

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Poor Rubber Rings.

The information was sent out more than a month ago from the most authoritative source, and should then have been printed here, that the country is this year flooded with poor rubber rings. The United States department of agriculture says that the housewife is taking a long chance if she does not test her rings. "The cost of everything entering into retailing," it says, "has increased, and in order to continue selling at the same price and to make a profit, manufacturers have reduced the quality of rings they are putting out."

But the standard rings are not reducing at the same price. I recently paid 25 cents a dozen for those known to be reliable year in and year out, and 5 cents for another and chalky sort. The difference in feeling between the two was like that between dry and some shoddy woolen cloth, but that was not a proof that the cheap ring was poor, although the chances were that it was risky to use it. Take along a fine rubber ring when you buy new ones and compare it with what is offered.

The stretching test is not, in my experience, an infallible one, but here is the advice that went with the warning mentioned:

"A six inch piece is cut out of a ring; take hold of the ring so that there are four inches between the fingers. Stretch the piece along a ruler until the ring is ten inches apart. The sample should not break and should return, when released, to its original length. The tensile strength is as follows: Fill a lightweight pall with one gallon and seven pints of water (total approximately seventeen pounds). Place the jar ring around an empty spool; pass a wire through the center of the spool and fasten to handle of the pall; then pass the round handle of a wooden spoon or broom through the ring and lift. If rings will stand these two tests they are not likely to give trouble in canning."

REALTORS FILL BOARD ROOMS AT HOUSEWARMING

BY AL CHASE.

From noon until late yesterday afternoon 1,000 realtors and their friends took part in the housewarming and official opening of the new rooms of the Chicago Real Estate board in the old Inter Ocean building at 87 West Monroe street.

Celestine Bonita, "King" Cole, and the other members of the reception committee stood at the head of the stairs in the lounge and shooed the guests upstairs, where there was an orchestra playing rag and about the most sumptuous buffet luncheon ever served in the loop.

Dining Room Opens Monday.

In the lounge the full effect of the $60,000 worth of decorations and furnishings could be obtained. With the exception of the big rug, practically all the luxurious fittings were in.

According to President Adolph F. Kramer, the next step in rounding out the board quarters into full activity will be the formal opening of the dining room next Monday. The first regular meeting of the board in the new rooms will be held today at 2 p.m.

$16,000 Michigan Avenue Sale.

The estate of Frederick Robinson and others have sold the property at 1322-26 South Michigan avenue, $61,000, east front, improved with a two story automobile building, under lease to the Vincennes Motor Company. Total price reported $150,000, through Oliver & Co.

This was taken for the purchasers by the Chicago Title and Trust company, under a trust agreement, a $100,000 part purchase money mortgage at 5 per cent being given back.

The six apartment building at 8527-29 Cornell avenue, lot 50x150, has been sold by Mary Thompson to A. Roskin, through T. D. O'Hearn of John A. Carroll & Bro. for a reported $36,500, subject to $13,000.

Building Permits

Chisen building permits were issued yesterday, including:

- New York, one story brick, Hollon, Seavey & Co. owners, 100x150, not let, $21,500
- 800x120, Chicago, one story, B. C. Lindquist, architect, $10,000
- 50x100, Harry Daley, arch., Lindquist Construction Co., $10,000

MILLION BONDS OF GRAND TRUNK OFFERED TODAY

Another big bond issue is to be offered today. A syndicate headed by A. Read & Co. is offering $25-million of Grand Trunk Railway twenty year 7 per cent sinking fund debenture bonds at par.

The bonds are dated Oct. 1, 1926, and mature Oct. 1, 1946.

They are the direct succession of the Grand Trunk Railways, of which the Dominions of Canada has had

the right to purchase and hold the Canadian National Railways. Principal and interest are payable in New York at the office of the Canadian Bank of Common Interest is payable April 1 and

Aug. 1. The bonds are in coupon form with provision for the registry of the principal. The issue is to be a whole after Oct. 1, 1926,

and interest on any interest date

is thirty days' notice.

A sinking fund of $500,000 per annum

is available for the purchase of the bonds

in the market at or before the first day of each month beginning April 1, 1921, and are not so obtainable during the six months revert to the syndicate.

Sears-Roebuck Plans Out.

Final details of the Sears, Roebuck &

Co. new financing were discussed yesterday at a meeting in the offices of

B. Becker & Co. The $50,000,000 issue to be offered to the public will consist of two and three 7½ per cent

bonds on a basis to yield from 7½ to 7¾

per cent, possibly as low as 7 per cent.

The syndicate is composed of

Chase National Bank of New York,

B. Becker & Co., the Continental and Commercial Trust, First Trust, Illinois

and Goldman, Sachs & Co. of

New York.

The syndicate which last week purchased notes offered them yesterday

at 95 and interest, to yield about 7.60 per cent. The offering met with a strong and a large oversubscription was noted.

See Lower Interest.

It is expected there will be a gradual rise of interest rates for good se-sures during the next few months to over 7 per cent. This situation is expected to bring several railroad companies into the market with new issues,

many managers have hesitated to pay out what they have regarded as exorbitant rates.

There was quite a broadening demand for utility bonds yesterday with transactions up to 95 and 96.

Prices of most of the issues are at a higher level. Foreign governments bonds moved over a steady range.

Annual report of the Punti Alta company for the year ended May 1925 shows surplus after taxes and depreciation of $16,650,000, equivalent to undivided dividends to stockholders of $43,600,000.

Leavitt, Leavitt was elected a vice president of the bank and will take up duties Oct. 15. He has resigned as a president of the First National bank of Louisville.

The directors of the Continental and Commercial Trust and Savings Fund

make up the surplus $5,000,000, which with the total of $5,000,000 and undivided profits

$10,000,000 makes the capital resources of the bank $11,000,000. The total capital surplus and undivided profits of the bank are $43,600,000.

J. Macfarren, head of the discount and collateral department of the trust and savings bank, was made an assistant clerk and Benjamin Bills a manager.

NIGHTMARE
HORROR, D

Once Gay Cap
"No Man's Land"

PARIS, Oct. 6.—(By the Press.)—A graphic, eyewitness account of the fearful condition in Petrograd is given by the Red Cross in an appeal for help. The Red Cross Society of Petrograd has been established by the Red Cross in Finland.

The documents tell the agony of a dying city. The present population, based on cards, now is from 500,000 and the former capital of Russia is described as having shrunk to one-tenth its pre-war size.

"Death stalks on every street in winter to aid in the grim march down the silent, hungry and dying thousands. With houses choked with filth spreading spotted and infectious, the cold weather will tax with pneumonia and typhus."

"Wreck Houses for Fuel." The fuel situation was bad. Wooden houses have given way to mud. The material is used equally among the people during the nights the more men steal the quota of wood.

"The woodyards have been cleared. One of them has been entirely to the manufacturer monthly. But even this is insufficient. People have to bury the dead and the bodies are waiting several days."

"Attempts to repair the which are full of holes, owing to water pipes, failed because wood blocks used for pavers were stolen during the night."

"Lighting is allowed only hours each day, and then not supplied on the lines for the authorities. Kerosene tubules. There are no candle homes in darkness."

"Rail Traffic Broken Down." There is no means of transporting things by waterway, because barges were long since demolished. The railway transportation almost exclusively to button of flour. Only 200 passengers are permitted to leave Petrograd on passenger train.

"Workmen receive half a bread daily; sometimes nothing. The prices of food continue to rise to incredible heights. Many products have almost disappeared from the market."

"The mortality has reached惊人的 rate, owing to the lack of medical care and the insanitary conditions of streets and piers. Fat has left the muscular tissue of the body long ago. A city of ghastly horrors.

"In order to fill their stomachs, they drink different mixtures for tea and coffee, or glasses of plain water, resulting in a loss of weight and drop of energy, which changes the expression of the face so that acquaintances are unrecognizable."

"There is no fuel, no hot water, no janitor, doorkeeper, no one to clean the yards, streets, houses, or for the removal of dead bodies."

"Petrograd is facing a phantom of epidemics. Thus, every day, there are cases of cholera, and intermittent fever, dysentery, Spanish influenza, pneumonia, diseases, human exhaustion."

"The hospitals are overflowing with victims, mostly women and children. Hernia is frequent than ever as the weakening or from climatic changes."

"Operations Like Butcher Shop." Patients are taken into the operating room without a bath. If they are weak while in bed awaiting operation, they must bring their own bed and turn with them. Patients and the lower medical staff are engaged in stealing operations."

"In the military hospitals, there are surgical instruments which are performed in unsterilized conditions. Almost all the operations result in complications, such as pneumo-thorax. Medical supplies are scarce. There are only two thousand patients."
